Russians Claim Gains At Kharkov

Moscow Declares General Advance Now In Progress

Soviet Troops Reported As Having Broken Through Nazi Wedge Near Kharkov

REDS MOVE BEHIND MANY MASSED TANKS

Reds Cavalry Unit Reported As 40 Miles Behind Nazi Lines At One Point

By JAMES E. BROWN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, May 27.—Soviet troops drove furiously today to shatter the spearhead of a Nazi wedge on the Izyum front, 70 miles south of Kharkov, and latest dispatches from the front lines declared a general advance was in progress.

(Reuters news agency reported from Stockholm that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's men had broken through the flank of the German wedge, cutting off the spearhead of the main Nazi thrust.)

With the Nazi diversionary drive thus brought to an abrupt halt, the principal Soviet advance regained momentum toward the pivotal Ukrainian city of Kharkov.

Report New Red Advances

Russian troops were reported to have scored new advances in a number of places along the blood-drenched front.

At one point in the southern Ukraine, a Red cavalry unit penetrated 40 miles behind the enemy lines to kill 2,100 Germans.

On the Kharkov front the Russians were moving behind solidly mased tank herds, of from 20 to 30 tanks. It was reported that one gigantic tank battle lasted for two days without pause.

More Ranking U. S. Military Leaders Arrive In London

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 27.—Preparations by the United States and Britain to perfect a major offensive against Germany were speeded today with the arrival in London of a score of additional ranking American military leaders, including Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, commanding general of the services of supply.

Three brigadier general, including L. Roy Lutes, Charles P. Gross and William C. Lee, were among Lieut. Gen. Somervell's party of about 20 officers.

The arrival of General Somervell and his staff immediately after the presence of America's air chiefs became known aroused widespread speculation on immediate United Nations efforts to open up a second front in Europe.

U. S. Leaders Present

In London at the present moment are several of America's leading generals, including heads of the Army and Navy air services and experts on dive-bombing, tank warfare and infantry disposition.

Axis Nations Fishing For Fleet Information By Claims Of Sinkings

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Conflicting enemy claims that various American and British warships have been sunk recently were interpreted by naval experts today as an indication that the Axis powers are preparing new sea-borne thrusts and are "fishing" for information about disposition of United Nations fleet units.

These sources believe that Japan, Germany and Italy have been broadcasting numerous claims in recent weeks in the hope of piecing together information about American and British warships for the following reasons:

Seek To Get Information

1. Japan is anxious to know what units now comprise America's Pacific fleet to prevent a repetition of the defeat suffered by the Nipponese invasion armada in the recent Coral Sea battle. Nippon is expected to strike again at any time in the Australian area and also may raid Alaskan bases.

2. Germany and Italy want to know the strength of America's Atlantic fleet before making a concerted drive this summer to cut the United States supply lines to Russia, Britain, China and the middle east. The Nazis also are reported concentrating naval units for a possible invasion of the British Isles, Ireland or Iceland.

Japan apparently is most interested in learning the whereabouts of America's newest battleships—the North Carolina and Washington—because a late Tokyo broadcast claimed a ship of this class was sunk in the Coral Sea engagement.

Substitute Names

Earlier Jap propaganda claims asserted that a British battleship of the Warspite class and one of the American California type were sent to the bottom in the Coral Sea battle. When Great Britain and the United States denied those claims, the Nipponese substituted the names of other classes of warships.

Aware of Axis intentions, the war and navy departments months ago adopted the policy of declining comment on Japanese, German or Italian claims, which usually turn out to be absolutely false or misleading.

For instance, the Japanese on three different occasions and in three widely separate areas claimed the sinking of the old American aircraft tender Langley. When the navy finally announced the ship had been sunk, the Japs began claiming the destruction of carriers of the Yorktown and Saratoga classes.

Warns Against Price Evasions

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today warned the nation's meat industry against evasion of price control regulations such as charging for inferior grades the highest March price for better grades of the same cut.

"Ignorance—professed or actual—of the provisions of the regulations will not be accepted by OPA as an excuse for such violations," Henderson said.

Japanese Supply Base Is Attacked

A V G Pilots Make Raid On Jap Base On Border Of Burma And China

(International News Service)

CHUNGKING, May 27.—Considerable damage was inflicted on Japanese supply bases concentrated along the border of Burma and Yunnan province, China, in two bombing attacks by American volunteer group pilots, it was announced in a communique today.

Two separate flights of A. V. G. planes bombed and machine-gunned the enemy bases Tuesday afternoon. Returning pilots said their bombs resulted in widespread damage.

No Japanese resistance was encountered and all the pilots returned safely to their base, it was said.

The communique disclosed also that fortified Japanese positions along the west bank of the Salween river were blasted by bombs on Monday.

Subsidizing Plan Opposed

Senate Delays Passage Of Bill Expanding Borrowing Power Of RFC

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Sharp criticism of a proposal granting Price Administrator Leon Henderson broad authority to subsidize industries hit by price ceilings today delayed Senate passage of a bill expanding borrowing power of the Reconstruction Finance corporation by $5,000,000,000.

The authority contained in the measure to make subsidy payments "in conjunction with the production, processing or distribution of any article" brought charges that the whole scheme of the price control law is being revolutionized.

"This bill would free a most gigantic power without any qualifications whatever," said Sen. O'Mahoney (D Wyo.).

Sen. Brown (D) Mich., in charge of the measure, insisted that the subsidizing authority will be used only in extraordinary cases, where war conditions make it necessary in order to maintain price ceilings. He cited subsidizing of transportation charges on coal to New England and gasoline to the east coast.

Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., declared that the measure provides authority to subsidize wages.

"This is an example of the difficulty we get into in fixing prices without fixing wages, an important

Italian Troops Poised To Move Against France

Report Nice And Island Of Corsica Are To Be Seized By Italians

FRENCH FLEET MAY SEE ACTION

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27.—Italian troops today were reported poised on the French frontier in preparation for an imminent move to occupy Nice and the island of Corsica.

Reports received by way of Switzerland said Rome diplomatic circles claim that Italy has the full support of Germany in pressing its claims to the French territory. Italy demanded Nice, Corsica and Tunis as its price for peace with France.

The Italians, it was said, are entitled to fulfillment of their demands, with Germany's blessings, since Italy is giving much aid to the Reich on the Russian front.

300,000 Troops Massed

London heard that 300,000 Italian troops are massed in the provinces of Piedmont and Liguria in northwest Italy adjacent to the French frontier.

The Italians are expected to move into Nice and Corsica at any moment, the Daily Mail said in a dispatch from the French frontier. It was said that Vichy will flatly turn down a note sent by Italy demanding that the French cede the territories and that the Italian occupation can be expected immediately thereafter.

"If Italy decides on drastic action the French Mediterranean fleet could play an important and perhaps determining part," the dispatch said. "Otherwise there could be little defense of Nice and Corsica," it added.

No Political Recognition To DeGaulle As Yet

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today indicated clearly that the United States is not prepared at present to extend political recognition to the free French movement of General Charles De Gaulle.

Questioned at his press conference concerning London reports that General De Gaulle has publically urged political recognition for his French national committee, Hull said the one central objective of the United States and other United Nations is to carry forward with all possible expediency the military phases of the war with a view to winning it at the earliest stage possible.

Hull said the American government has not undertaken to go into other phases of this particular matter.

State department sources previously have emphasized that the United States is willing to recognize General De Gaulle's movement as a military organization only.

To Build Huge U. S. Air Armada In Great Britain

Will Operate Under American Command In Cooperation With R. A. F.

NO IMMEDIATE ACTION IS LIKELY

Will Take Time To Build Up Force, But Process Will Be Started Soon

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27.—A huge American air armada will be built up in Britain to operate under American command in close cooperation with the Royal Air Force, a high British official told International News Service today.

It was emphasized that the United States forces will operate separately from the point of view of both strategy and operations.

Meanwhile, it was emphasized that no immediate results should be expected from Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold's visit, since it will take some time to build up the American forces to maximum strength. It was emphasized, however, that the process will be started soon.

It is believed the Americans first will be sent on operational missions over the channel ports such as Brest, Cherbourg and St. Nazaire before attempting any large-scale operations over Germany.

U. S. Fighter Pilots Under Terrific Strain

By PAT ROBINSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, May 27.—How do our fighter pilots feel while waiting for the Japs? What are their reactions during bombings, strafings and dogfights?

I put these questions to a group of our ace pilots as we sat on the ground under a brilliant tropical moon.

There was Lieut. Col. Boyd (Buzz) Wagner of Johnstown, Pa., who is credited with shooting down almost 40 enemy planes; Lieut. Dave Campbell of Plattsburgh, O., a pursuit pilot; Lieut. Col. Fred Smith, the son of Maj. Gen. Frederick K Smith.

Young Smith, like his father, is a West Pointer.

"The hardest part of the job is waiting for action," Smith said. "When I used to box my stomach had that all-gone feeling until the bout started. Waiting for the Zeros to attack brings the same feeling—only its a thousand times intensified.

"Boxing was only fun but there's no fun in war. If I made a mistake in boxing I stood a chance of getting a punch in the jaw, or a black

Axis Sub Sunk After Attack On U. S. Ship

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ST. LUCIA, British West Indies, May 27.—The Axis submarine believed responsible for crippling the U. S. Destroyer Blakeley on Monday has been sunk 10 miles from the northern end of Martinique, it was officially announced today.

The submarine was sunk during a bright moonlight patrol by Navy Pilot Ensign Edward G. Binning of New York City.

He announced the sinking in the following terse report:

"Sub sunk."

The sinking climaxed a grim, unrelenting hunt for the underseas raider which hit the Blakeley with a torpedo just a few miles from the harbor entrance of Fort De France. The Blakeley managed to creep into the harbor of Fort De France with the crumbled bow. Several sailors were injured. Ten were reported dead or missing.

FIRE AT HARRISBURG
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 27.—Twelve fire companies battled a spectacular blaze today at the Harrisburg Steel corporation plant near the state capital for more than an hour before they were able to bring it under control.

According to Assistant Fire Chief William C. McBride, the fire started when oil burst into flames while being pumped from one tank into another. Plant officials said they would be unable to estimate the damage until later in the day.

Three Jap Planes Lose Air Battle

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, in Australia, May 27.—Three Japanese fighter planes were destroyed by United Nations fliers in a sharp dog fight over New Guinea when a squadron of 16 enemy planes was intercepted, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Two attacks by Jap flying boats against the United Nations advanced base at Port Moresby were disclosed.

Three of the enemy craft carried out a raid near the Port Moresby airdrome Monday night. They dropped bombs but caused no damage. One of the attacking planes was hit by anti-aircraft fire and was losing altitude when last seen.

Tuesday night two Japanese flying boats made a new attack but the raid was without effect.

Prime Minister John Curtin announced in Canberra that the Australian government had made arrangements whereby any members of United States forces in the commonwealth who are arrested for offenses against laws of Australia may be tried by American authorities.

Sergeant Smith Reported Missing

Believed Another New Castle Man Taken By Japs When Bataan Fell

Word has been received by Mr and Mrs. C W Smith of 715 Monroe street from the War department concerning their son James R Smith, who is a battalion sergeant of clerical forces in the United States army.

Sergeant Smith was among the American soldiers captured by the Japanese when the Bataan Peninsula fell, according to the War department.

While the department does not know exactly where Sergeant Smith is at the time, efforts are being made through the agency of a neutral country to get the list of men who were captured. When this list is secured Mr. and Mrs. Smith will receive further word.

Report Renewed Activity In Libya

Indications Of Nazi Offensive

Attempt Is Made To Launch Drive Eastward Says Cairo Report

AIR ACTIVITY ALSO INCREASES

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, May 27.—Authoritative British circles said today that renewed Axis activity in Libya "obviously is an enemy offensive of sorts."

It was suggested, however, that it is too early to speculate on the extent of the Axis drive.

CAIRO, May 27.—Indications of a possible German offensive in Libya were seen today in the communique of the British Middle East command which reported that Axis columns, including tank units, had made an eastward advance in some strength.

The Axis advance did not reach the main positions of the imperial forces but German Stuka bombers carried out dive-bombing attacks on forward British positions. Several of the Nazi craft were shot down.

Enemy air activity was said to be increasing also in areas to the rear of the British lines.

"Enemy columns, including tanks in some strength, yesterday advanced eastwards," the communique said. "By nightfall they had not reached our main positions.

"Stukas dive-bombed our forward troops. Several were shot down. Enemy air activity increased in our rear areas."

Large Scale Offensive

LONDON, May 27.—German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has started a large-scale offensive in Libya, all London evening newspapers said today.

Earlier authoritative British quarters conceded that the renewed Axis activity in Libya "obviously is an enemy offensive of sorts."

Reports from Cairo said that Rommel's tank forces were rumbling into action along a wide front but had not yet made contact with imperial defenders.

Advanced British positions, however, were heavily blasted by large fleets of Stuka dive-bombers.

It's all right. Investigation shows that "untrained civilians" who are given Army commissions are needed for technical jobs your Willie couldn't do.

eye. But one mistake in this game can mean death. You never forget that.

"No matter how many dogfights you've had you are never relaxed while you are waiting for an attack."

Need Frequent Rest Periods

This strain explains why pursuit pilots must have frequent rest periods away from the fighting fronts. Even when they are on the ground they are always on the alert for an attack, and their nerves are on edge. The only relief is to go away from the scene of action.

"In an active zone you are always expecting word that the Japs are coming," Smith continued. "You are in a nervous sweat and always terribly thirsty. Whenever the telephone rings you feel a sudden spasm.

"Maybe it's only the commander wanting to borrow a razor blade. You sit back in relief but soon you are tensed again."

Then comes the real signal that Jap bombers and Zero fighters are on the way. Everybody hops into his plane.

"Then the nervousness suddenly disappears," said Smith. If it's only a squadron of Zeros they are likely to stay out of reach, just teasing us without coming close enough to fire a shot. They try to wear us down.

"If it is a real bombing attack we go after them. Then you forget everything except the job in hand. You dive on the Jap bomber and a Zero dives on you. Maybe you get the bomber and maybe not, but in any case you have a fight on with the Zero.

"You get him or he gets you, unless he flees into the clouds. We beat off the bomber attack, forcing them to jettison their loads harmlessly. Then we come back and count noses and wait for the next fight."

When the thrill of battle is over, the pilots agree, the same old tenseness returns, it is the toughest strain imaginable.

stressed that the United States would send over fleets of bombers to attack Germany.

"The Americans have numbers of dive-bombers while Britain at present has only a few," the newspaper said.

In this connection it was recalled that only yesterday Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham, former commander of the British fleet in the Mediterranean, commented sadly on Nazi dive-bomber supremacy in the Mediterranean.

The London Evening News declared that a second front could not be opened "until our planes of all types and in adequate numbers can put an unbreakable canopy over landing places on the other side of the water."

McMullen stated today that he plans a school of instruction here for the members of the auxiliary force.

He is now securing instructors.

The date for the first class will be announced later, the chief asserted today.

Only Officer Candidates

Sergeant Bilpuch wishes to emphasize that only officer candidates are being considered at the present time. He said that applicants for officer training school must be over 21, citizens, at least high school graduates and have evidenced high qualities of leadership.

He added that enlistment with the WAAC was a serious business and not to be looked on as a lark. "The women," said Bilpuch, "will be part of the United States army and, though they will not fight, they will take part in other regular army duties. Only women who are qualified and want to work for their country will be considered."

The first officer training course will begin around the middle of July and the personnel will consist of about 400 women from all parts of the country. All applications must be made before June 4 through Sergeant Bilpuch at the post office.

New Castle women who could be reached by a reporter all said they were entering army service for patriotic reasons but a few admitted that they liked the uniforms, too. Others were tired of the routine of home life and wanted adventure.

after the departure of United States Chief of Staff George C. Marshall suggests that a major United States-British move is underway to put the final touches to plans for offensive operations on land and sea and in the air.

The British man in the street, cheered by such evidence of forthright action, is losing his look of anxiety in happy anticipation of the opening of a second front.

British soldiers likewise are happy at the prospect that their long period of inactivity probably is coming to an end and that they will have an opportunity to get at grips with the Axis forces shoulder to shoulder with American doughboys.

The official announcement of General Somervell's arrival said:

"General Somervell arrived in the British Isles He will consult with British officials on mutual problems relating to the Anglo-American war effort."

The phrase "Anglo-American war effort" obviously was purposely chosen to make clear that there will be extremely close cooperation between British and American forces.

chines into the battle prodigally in an effort to break through in depth and encircle large Russian forces. The situation was extremely complicated until the Red soldiers frustrated an effort to sever their communications and hurled the Germans back.

The fluid character of the fighting was shown by a report that thousands of troops are locked in hand-to-hand fighting for the possession of single villages.

Stop Nazi Drive

Timoshenko's men stopped the Nazi drive on an important sector of the Izyum front and then successfully counter-attacked over a wide area to take the right bank of an unnamed river.

With tanks and heavy artillery barrages preparing the way, the Russians took over the lower part of German-ocupied heights and are now threatening the approaches to a village said to be several miles beyond a populated point captured a few days ago.

The Germans twice staged desperate counter-attacks in a futile effort to stem the Soviet drive, but were repulsed with heavy losses, it was stated.

German air activity was reported weakening as the Nazi pilots dropped their hedge-hopping technique and contented themselves with dropping bombs from high altitudes. They specialized in incendiaries, setting villages afire as a guide to night bombing attacks.

Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's forces, greatly strengthened by air reinforcements, continued to hold its advantage before the Ukraine capital but still was hampered by fierce German counter-attacks in the Izyum-Barvenkovo sector to the southeast.

Consolidate Gains

Moscow military headquarters said the Soviet armies were consolidating without delay strategic positions taken from the Nazis.

"During the night the Soviets in the Kharkov direction consolidated their positions," the noon communique said.

"There were stubborn engagements with enemy tanks and infantry in the Izyum-Barvenkovo areas."

(Reports received in Stockholm said Russian and German armies were locked in a bitter struggle all along a 45-mile front south of Kharkov. In several sectors hand to hand fighting was said to be in progress.)

Red Star, organ of the Soviet army, ridiculed German claims that three Russian units had been surrounded. The newspaper said that the Soviet air arm held undoubted supremacy in the sky and that the Russian ground forces were proceeding cautiously and steadily in their advance on key industrial and communications center of the Ukraine.

The Germans were reported to be throwing in numerous reserve tank units on the Izyum-Barvenkovo front, 70 miles to the southeast, to increase their pressure on Timoshenko's left flank. The battling was said to be raging with an intensity equal to the worst fighting witnessed in the war in Russia.

London, May 27.—Soviet troops have captured a key point in the German defenses on one sector of the Kharkov front, Exchange (British) Telegraph Company reported today from Moscow.

Two of the world's most popular grand operas were flat failures at the premieres. They were "Madame Butterfly" and "La Traviata."

GORMLEY CALLED TO AID DEFENSE

John Rogers of the Interstate Commerce commission is the national administrator of the division of motor transport.

Trucks and tires must be conserved if the nation is to be served by motor transportation through the duration of the war, according to Mr. Gormley. Normally, 400,000 trucks have been purchased each year by the truck industry. Today there are but 130,000 trucks for replacement in the country and no trucks are being manufactured. Hence the necessity of conservation is seen. The present supply, plus the 130,000 new trucks in existence must last about three years.

The elimination of "empty mileage" by trucks by the consolidation of truck operations, the reduction of present mileage for all trucks, with the resultant saving in tires and parts will give the nation partial motor transportation during the war. Unless these things are done, many truck companies will go out of business to the inconvenience of many communities.

P.M.T.A. Used

For the work necessary to the office of defense transportation, the government has "drafted" many top officials of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association. Samuel F. Ninness, the state president, has been made the chief of the section of petroleum transportation; Edward Gogolin, general manager and former state president, has been given an important place in the co-ordinator's office in Washington, D. C. William Clark, past president, has been made the field manager in New York City, and Mr. Gormley, who heads the Chicago office, is a former state president, former state treasurer and present state secretary of the P.M.T.A. Another official of P.M.T.A., Everett Harding, has been placed in charge of the Philadelphia area.

(WAR BULLETINS)

broke out yesterday at Zara, near the border of Croatia, between a group of rebels and Italian Carabinieri, it was officially announced today.

Several Italian soldiers were killed when the rebels attacked with intense rifle and machine gun fire. They also used hand grenades.

The battle was said to have started when the prefect of Zara inspected advanced posts along the demarcation line.

ROME, May 27.—(By Official Italian Wireless)—The Italian high command reported today that Royal Air Force planes had bombed Messina on the northeast coast of Sicily.

The R. A. F. attacked the city in two waves, it was said. The Italians claimed that bombs damaged a cathedral.

It was claimed that an Italian submarine in the Atlantic hit a United States cruiser with two torpedoes at dawn May 23.

(Editor's Note: There was absolutely no confirmation of the Italian report.)

BERLIN, May 27.—(By Official German Wireless—Reinhard Heydrich, German protector of Bohemia and Moravia, was wounded by an assassin in Prague today, it was officially announced.

No details were given and there was no immediate indication of the seriousness of his wounds.

A reward of ten million crowns was offered.

LONDON, May 27.—Reuters News agency reported from Stockholm today that 400 Poles were shot in Lithuania in reprisal for the slaying of two Germans.

Those shot in the mass execution were accused by the Germans of being "saboteurs and Communists".

An announcement in Berlin said that the two Nazis killed had been engaged in "rebuilding Lithuania".

STOCKHOLM, May 27.—German authorities have completed plans for a mass evacuation of the whole Norwegian coastal district in event of a United Nations invasion, reports reaching Stockholm said today.

The Germans were reported to be making a complete inventory of all housing facilities in eastern Norway.

Swedish press reports said:

"There is a definite possibility that vast parts of the Norwegian coast again will become a battlefield."

Installation-Speaker Mark Closing Hadassah Session

Bringing their season's activities to a close, New Castle chapter of Hadassah with their retiring president, Mrs. J. Kulkin presiding, assembled in The Castleton Tuesday afternoon for installation of their new slate of officers, in the form of a dessert-program. The event was highlighted by a brilliant speaker, Mrs. Irma Ehrlich of Kew Gardens, Long Island, N. Y., who gave an inspiring address on outstanding Jewish personalities who have contributed much to the world of today.

Welcome was offered by Mrs. Kulkin, and Mrs. S. Skole offered the invocation, as the large group sat around colorfully appointed tables in the crystal ballroom.

Mrs. Kulkin in turn called upon the various chairmen for their reports. Nineteen new members have been added with three additional names being submitted.

Mrs. Abe Cohen reported on the convention sessions at Altoona recently, with emphasis being made on three hearings: (1) Youth, (2) Education, (3) Palestine. She enumerated steps being taken for the promotion of all three projects and the support Hadassah will give.

Mrs. Kulkin, in expressing appreciation for the splendid co-operation during her two years as president of the organization, urged that the fine work be continued under the leadership of their new president, Mrs. Jack Conn. She cited the donations the order has made to worthwhile funds of New Castle and their willingness to be ready in all emergencies. Mrs. Kulkin was later presented with a gift from her program chairman and toastmistress of the day, Mrs. Rube Rubenson, as an expression of gratitude felt by the membership of Hadassah in the manner in which she has piloted her ship.

Mrs. Bernard Rosenblum, president of the Butler chapter of Hadassah, was introduced and she conducted the installation of new officers in a unique and original manner, using the military theme. Standing at attention, she in turn presented the following officers with a miniature officer in uniform corresponding with her special duties, and spoke words appropriate to each individual. They are: Honorary president, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, who was given special tribute; president, Mrs. Jack Conn; first-vice, Mrs. Rube Rubenson; second-vice, Mrs. Jake Raffel; third-vice, Mrs. Melvin Stark; recording secretary, Mrs. Ted H. Marlin; fiancial secretary, Mrs. David Rogovin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Abe Cohen; treasurer, Mrs. Abe Fisher.

Mrs. Rubenson introduced the speaker, Mrs. Ehrlich of the national speakers bureau of Hadassah, who held absolute quietness as she poured from her heart harrowing experiences she has encountered and seen of the sufferings of the Jewish people abroad, giving first hand information. Mrs. Ehrlich related only a few of the leaders who have contributed much to the betterment of the world of today, the first being Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah; Theodor Herzel, whom she knew as a child and a great Jewish leader; Dr. and Mrs. Chaim Wezmann, he being the discoverer of T. N. T., she being president of the Woman's International Zionists Organization, and others. She told of the president of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, being the first to give hope to the Europeans in their desperation. Mrs. Ehrlich has worked with the youth in Europe and helped to transport them to Palestine.

"Hadassah is working to prepare for a better day, healing wounds, and to relieve the sufferings of our people. We have done much toward this, and there is much more to be done, and we can, united, to bless them with happiness and liberty," she concluded

Preceding, two talented student musicians secured by Mrs. E. Kaplan, were heard. Miss Helen VanCouvert, vocalist, who delighted with two numbers, and her accompanist, Richard Scarazzo.

Special guests included Mrs. Rose Schneitzer of Hollywood, Cal.; Mrs. P. Broidia of New York City and her daughter, Mrs. Mavard Broidia of Youngstown, Mrs. Bernard Rosenbulm of Butler and Jean Glenn of The News.

RAINEY-FULTON WEDDING IN CHURCH

In St. Margaret's church, Seventh Ward, Alma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Rainey, of 9 Darlington avenue, became the bride of Lowell W. Fulton, of North Cedar street, son of Mrs. H. M. Fulton, of Huntington, Indiana, on Monday, May 25.

Father M. P. Hinnebusch, pastor, officiated, using the single ring service.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown with full train, and her veil of tulle was caught with a crown of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white calla lilies, and her only jewelry was a gold cross, suspended from a gold chain, a gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Builano, who wore a formal rose tone chiffon gown, with matching accessories, and her arm bouquet was of Talisman roses.

Don Hall served as best man.

Appropriate music was provided for the occasion, and following the ceremony, a wedding dinner and reception for relatives and friends was held at a suburban tea room.

Later, the bride and groom left for a trip which will include Chicago, and Huntington, Indiana, where they will visit at the home of the groom's mother. Upon their return, here, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton will reside in their newly furnished home on Eighth street.

The newlyweds received a telegram, conveying congratulations from the former's brother, Corporal Clyde Rainey, of the U. S. Marines, stationed in San Francisco, California.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle High School, Class of 1933. The bridegroom is employed as a conductor on the B. and O. Railroad.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bullano, of Farrell, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rainey, of Cleveland.

M. and M. Club

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy McKean of New Galilee were hosts to the M. and M. club membership Tuesday evening, with three tables of 500 providing the pastime. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pitzer, Jr., and C. Edwin Duff won the prizes.

Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess being aided by Mrs. Howard Kennedy.

On June 30 the club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pitzer of the Mt. Jackson road for a similar party.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. S. Garvin Ligo on their silver wedding anniversary, a party of their friends gathered Tuesday evening at their home on Sumner avenue for a surprise celebration of the occasion.

At the close of the evening, following bridge-playing and a lunch, Mr. and Mrs. Ligo were given a lovely gift of silver, which was presented on behalf of the group by Mrs. John Madigan.

A very pleasant evening was spent playing bridge, with high score prizes going to Mrs. Glenn Weber, John Haven, and Mrs. Fred Sheppard.

Mrs. Wilbur Mayberry and Mrs. Charles Streib were in charge of arrangements for the party.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, of Youngstown, Ohio.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY HAS INSTALLATION MEETING

Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion held their installation and regular session in the Legion Home Monday evening before a large gathering of guests. Mrs. Stuart Cope, president of the senior auxiliary, presided as the installing officer.

Those installed were as follows: past president, Betty Cooper; president, Peggy Lou Long; vice-president, Verna Taylor; secretary, Doris Eileen Daugherty; chaplain, Delores McKee; sergeant at arms, Maxine Taylor; historian, Verna Mae Brooks.

It was planned to send boxes from time to time to soldiers of the Legion who are serving in the present war. Also, a wiener roast was set for June 22 at Cunningham park.

Mrs. Wade Daugherty, advisor for the group, gave a short talk and Mrs. John Gaston, assistant advisor, was also heard from.

After welcoming of new members, lunch was served by Betty Jane Cope, Maxine Taylor and Verna Taylor.

FEDERATION JUNIORS' DINNER FINISHES YEAR

Closing the club year with a dinner party, Federation Juniors gathered Thursday evening at the New Castle Field club for this annual event.

Places were set for 21 at a table decorated with arrangements of iris.

At the close of dinner, Miss Dorothy Blim, retiring president, was presented with a gift on behalf of the club by Miss Kathryn Boston, newly elected president.

During the evening tables of contract were in play, with prizes going to Miss Margaret Brown and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton.

Dinner chairman was Mrs. Gust Sanfilippo; decoration chairman, Mrs. A. L. Hoffmaster; menu, Mrs. Robert Hoose; music, Mrs. George Marquis; transportation, Mrs. John Stone.

WILSON-MATLACK NEWS IS RECEIVED

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson, of 701 North Cedar street, announce the marriage of their daughter, June Margaret Wilson, to Norman Matlack, son of Mrs. R. K. Matlack, of 358 North Main street, Butler.

The wedding took place at the First Methodist church, of El Paso, Texas, May 23. The pastor, Rev. J. Bromfalk, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bunn, of El Paso, were the attendants.

The bride is a graduate of the New Castle high school, class of 1938, and was employed by the Bell Telephone company. The groom is a graduate of the Butler high school, and is in the employ of the American Air Lines company, as radio telephone operator.

Mr. and Mrs. Matlack will reside at 2803 Altura street, El Paso, Tex.

Give Up "Makeshift" Constipation Remedies!
Why fool with constipation? Why try to combat the trouble after it has already made you miserable?
It may well be that your constipation is caused by too little "bulk food" in your diet, for medical science warns that lack of "bulk" is one of the commonest causes of constipation.
If yours is this kind of constipation, those purges and cathartics can give you, at best, only temporary relief. Eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, on the other hand, corrects the cause by supplying the "bulk food" you lack and must have! Enjoy this crisp, crunchy cereal daily, drink plenty of water, and like so many others, you'll "Join the Regulars"! ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, see a doctor.

WAR STAMINA

MANY features of modern war are not easily grasped by observers, among them the capacity for continuing battle by the contending forces.

The Russians and Germans have been engaged in all-out battle for three weeks without visible evidence at this distance of much let-up. The killing pace which war of movement demands and the terrific wreckage of men and machines as described by eye witnesses would seem to call for frequent breathing spells. Apparently there are none.

One report of fighting in Russia describes men and machines of the opposing forces so entangled on the battlefield that warplanes of both sides were unable to take part without strafing their own as well as enemy forces.

In the Napoleonic wars important battles were widely spaced. Until its last months the Civil War did not produce more than a half dozen big engagements in a year, with men exhausted after several days' struggle. After three days' fighting at Gettysburg the Confederates retreated southward but the Union forces were too worn out to press them.

The hammering administered by Grant in the wilderness campaign was the nearest thing to modern war seen in the struggle between the states, but even that did not approach present day fighting. The World War featured mass maneuvers with actual battles between big armies infrequent.

From whence comes the stamina to support modern maneuvers? Is the answer found in the fact that most soldiers ride in machines to save their legs? Do troops fight in shifts to give them periodic recuperation? As with many other features of this war, the answer is not available. But it is beyond comprehension that men have the endurance for unceasing battle over a period of weeks.

SWEEPING CHANGE

To ease transportation difficulties, shipping practices may soon be put into effect that will have many ramifications in the buying habits of America. The plan, as it is being worked out, is to prevent the cross-hauling of similar types of goods.

Easterners would stick to Maine potatoes, Westerners would have the Idaho variety, while mid-continent folk would be content with locally grown spuds. Florida, California and Texas citrus fruits would likewise be regionally distributed. Massachusetts shoes for the East and Missouri shoes for the West, territorial division of Pittsburgh, Birmingham and Chicago steel and other limitations upon long hauls have been suggested.

At present about 125,000 freight cars are loaded each day in the United States. There are more than a million cars now in service and it is contended that with shorter hauls the turnover of freight cars would increase materially.

But application of this program will certainly bring about revolutionary market changes. It would mean, among other things, development of consumer goods industries in the prairie states as well as promotion of new agricultural crops in many sections of the nation.

WINNING THE WAR WITH OLD KEYS

With the slogan, "Keys Open the Door to Victory," a woman in New York City has carried on a campaign with signal success to gather up old keys, collection 220 pounds of them in a brief period. The usefulness of such metals in the war effort need not be emphasized.

There is a by-product of equal value. How many tons of old, useless keys are carried about by the average man? The answer might reach astronomical figures.

These old keys are a source of irritation to almost every man who possesses them. He strongly suspects they are useless, but lacks the courage and determination to get rid of them for fear he'll throw away the wrong one and find himself locked out of his home or his cellarette.

Let the movement spread. Men should face the issue and cull through the old key-ring, checking and double-checking if need be, to dispose of the unnecessary ones. The result will be a new, sweet calm of the mind, the sense of a duty well performed, with the hope that one day those keys will help to fire bullets at Japs or be the bullets themselves.

CALL FOR PLANES

Competition for the output of America's warplane factories is becoming keener day by day. Australia sends word that it needs planes, more planes and still more planes. China announces it is in imminent need of fleets of aircraft to hold the invading Japanese at bay. India can not offer strong resistance to the Japs without heavy aerial reinforcements.

All of these cries for aerial assistance come in the wake of Japanese successes made possible by numerical warplane superiority.

As nearly as can be estimated, the Allies now are turning out bombers and fighters at double the rate of Axis output. But the Axis started with overwhelming superiority in the air and more months will be required to wipe out this lead. Hitler is estimated to have started the war with 10,000 planes and to have 25,000 at present. But he is so fiercely beset throughout Europe and North Africa that he may now be losing them as fast as they can be replaced.

Certainly Britain and America seem to have established air superiority over Europe and Russia is holding its own. American air fighters, which have been going to England in large numbers, may be diverted in other directions as production rises.

Air requirements are great. A strong air arm is needed in this country for defense and coastal patrol. Alaska needs both a defensive and an offensive force. The Panama Canal and its guardian bases must be liberally supplied, as must the Navy. And demands from the Pacific and the Indian Ocean zones give added proof that American factories can continue producing at ever-increasing speed for months before the Axis is definitely overcome in the air.

Japan started the war with a preponderance of aircraft in the Southwest Pacific. American deliveries must be made over a long ocean route. But deliveries are being made and Japan will eventually be as inferior in the air in the Orient as Hitler is in Europe.

A price ceiling has been put on pork products. That ought to bring home the bacon.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TAUGHT FEAR BY PARENTS

There is no light in the pantry and it is nearly dark.

"I wish you would go to the pantry for some carrots," says mother.

Dan starts off but soon returns with "I'm too tired, mother." "Now, Dan, you know you are fibbing. You are afraid. There is nothing to hurt you."

Dan is five. The mother suspecting that he was afraid should have accepted his explanation without suggesting that he was afraid or was misrepresenting the fact. She should have gone herself, or have offered him a reward.

"I have brought this girl in to you today, doctor, because she won't eat what she should. She just worries me to death. We have awful scenes at the table sometimes. She upsets the whole family. I thought you could tell me what to do."

Sylvia, seven years of age, is sitting there while her mother pictures her eating problems in great detail and describes the annoyance to the mother by the child. Sylvia never had a happier moment. She discovers that she not only had been forcing the family to pay her a great deal of attention at home, but that her mother had grown desperate over her conduct.

When you go to see your doctor about the child whose conduct you wish to correct, it is wiser to leave the child at home, for the first visit at least.

You are sitting at the dinner table and Toby drops some remarks about his teacher which suggest to you that she has done something of which you strongly disapprove. Suppose you, by a remark or gesture, indicate that you are displeased by what the teacher is alleged to have done. Then you do her an injustice making a judgment from a one-sided and, no doubt, biased testimony; you encourage your child to engage in unkind remarks about persons in their absence.

You also damage your child's character, his education, and you help to waste the tax money you have paid. If you think some things are not going right at school wait a few days until you regain your poise, and then have a word with the teacher in the child's absence. If you are a mother, be a lady; if a man, be a gentleman. It will pay.

A list of books on manners for adults and children may be had by writing me at 235 E. 5th St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My daughter in nigh school barely passes but studies diligently. Her textbooks are hard for her to read.

A. Read aloud most of her assignments to her and help her turn each paragraph into a few words of her own. In return for this, prevail on her to read to you or herself for fifteen minutes each evening from interesting materials of about fifth grade difficulty, in order to improve her reading skill. You may have without cost to you a copy of my "Tips to Students," by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

CRANKMIRE IN PERIL

Old Crankmire banged the table and he said: "Let's get it straight.
It's the Germans and Italians and the Japanese we hate.
It's the Axis we are fighting—that's the truth you all allow—.
Well until that quarrel's settled,
let's not have a local row.

"When we know the house is burning—though to squabble quick we are—
We don't sit about and argue over who may have the car.
When there's plague or epidemic, and the doors wear warning signs
In the face of common danger we blot out all party lines.

"So until this war is over—better still until it's won—
With all petty self-advantage and self-thinking let's be done.
When the Huns are chased from Holland and the Japs from Singapore
'Twill be time enough to argue with the man who lives next door."

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Joseph W. Martin, Jr., majority leader of the House of Representatives urges aid to small business men: "Unless we do come to the rescue of the small business man in a substantial way there will be many a ghost town in the United States."

NEW YORK—Donald M. Nelson, head of the war production board, declares waste is treason and adds: "It is a smart man's war and we've got to be smarter and keener than they are."

Buffalo—Lawrence C. Bell, maker of the famous Airacobra fighting plane believes the nation should concentrate now on training pilots and mechanics: "The country should stop worrying about production because we can build all the planes you want."

NEW YORK—Walter D. Fuller, former head of the National Association of Manufacturers: "Hitler's coffin is on the production line."

And if we all try to be smart and get a horse, the next step will be rationing of hay and oats.

Toonerville Folks — By FONTAINE FOX

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 8:19. Sun rises tomorrow 5:35.

Our idea of quite a person these days is one can answer a few of the questions asked him.

Hi Hum says it's right to talk about the bill of rights, but he doesn't believe it was meant for married men.

Trouble teaches us two things: (1) who our friends really are, and (2) who have been waiting to catch us bent over just at the right angle.

The expectant father had driven over to the doctor's and was riding back with the medico.

"This will make your 15th child, won't it?" asked the doctor.

"That's so," the father said.

Just then a duck crossed the road.

"Whose duck is that?" asked the doctor.

"That ain't no duck," the expectant father said. "That's a stork with his legs wore off."

When they begin to ration the eggs it is likely to kill off that urge to bring home the bacon.

Nowadays the average man is learning that what hurts business hurts him and his interests.

They tell about a home that has so many family skeletons that the closets are being enlarged.

The old fellow turned to his son and said, "You know, son, your Ma and me made a promise to each other when we got married. It was this: we decided that when I began to talk she would keep still, and when she began to talk I was to take my hat and go for a long walk. And so, son, I have spent most of my life in the out-of-doors, and that is the reason for my health."

Our eyes are placed in front because it is more important to look ahead than to look back.

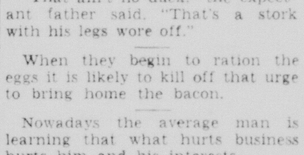
Just because you are interested in everybody's business is no sign that you are a business man.

We overheard a little conversation on the street yesterday that we're passing on for what it may be worth.

"So you met your wife in a night club? asked one man. "That must have been very romantic."

"Romantic nothing," replied the other. "She thought I was working late at the office, and I thought she was home with the kids."

Even if you are on the right track, you'll be run over if you just sit there.



The final test of Christian fortitude is to be a clerk and wait on a do-you-realize-who-I-am woman.

Just when we are wishing it would get hot so we could wear light summer clothes and save wear and tear on our winter suit a friend came along and remarked, "Nice day! I hope it stays cool so I can get more wear out of this suit and save my summer clothes."

Wife—What did you rip the back part of my new book out for?

Surgeon—Excuse me, dear; it was labeled "appendix" and I took it out without thinking.

According to a government report the average American pays $75 a year for doctor bills. This probably will be news to quite a few doctors.

Some people spoil the future by forever living in the past.

They tell of a man who operates several trucks, and who prudently laid in 100 new tires several months ago. What keeps him from congratulating himself on his foresight, and his wife in gales of laughter, is that somehow he forgot to order any inner tubes to go with them.

And no doubt a lot of people would be surprised if they knew how many people never pay anything to a church.

If nothing happens to the crops we will have more things that we need than ever known for many years.

We have often wondered why people did not insist on celebrating Memorial Day on the last Sunday in May. It would do away with a lot of rough stuff and more people would find out why we celebrate it.

THE BRIDAL DRESS

"May a bride wear a white wedding dress and veil regardless of the time of day she is married—morning, afternoon or evening? My wedding will take place in the afternoon at 4 o'clock. I intend to have a few friends and the groom's family attend my small reception held at a woman's club near my home. Since the hour is too early for dinner, what kind of refreshments would you advise?"—Maude.

Answer: Yes—to your first question. But the bride who marries in the morning should be less elaborately dressed than the afternoon or evening bride. The morning bride's dress would best be organdy or mousseline de sole—for summer, crepe or charmeuse plainly made. Her veil should be of tulle rather than lace. She may, of course, carry a bouquet but need wear no gloves.

At an afternoon or evening wedding, any of the more formal materials are entirely correct.

As your refreshments will be served between 4 and 5 o'clock (tea time), afternoon tea would be the most appropriate menu. Since no substantial foods should be served in mid-afternoon, tea, small assorted sandwiches, wedding cake and bon bons will be sufficient.

It is customary, although not obligatory, in such cases for the bride's parents to invite the groom's family and the wedding party to dinner.

Question: Since I shall not send invitations to my wedding but announcements instead, how shall I let my friends know of my new address? Is it permissible to place it at the bottom of my announcements?—B. V.

Answer: Send "at home" cards along with your announcements. Since these will be mailed after the ceremony, have them engraved with "Mr. and Mrs." in the center, the date in one corner and the address in the other.

This date simply means that after that time you will be in your new home and ready to welcome visitors.

Tomorrow—
Floor Covering For Play Room.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed 3-cent stamped envelope.

J—WALKER'S RIGHTS

It is comforting for some pedestrians to know that they still have the right of way in crossing the street wherever they choose to make the venture.

But we don't advise you to assert your rights.

A person who was crossing the street in the middle of the block was struck by an automobile. He sued the driver and recovered $15,000.00 damages.

The case was carried to the United States Supreme Court, the defendant contending that a pedestrian had no right in the street except at regular crossings.

The appeal was dismissed and the original verdict sustained . . . and additional interest and costs were added.

The Supreme Court ruled as follows:

"The streets belong to the public. Pedestrians have the right to walk on any part of the street or roadway, and that right cannot be taken away.

"Driving a car is a privilege that can be revoked at any time. Therefore, it becomes incumbant on the driver of an automobile to see that the automobile does not strike the pedestrian."

Many cities—seeking to prevent accidents to pedestrians have traffic rules and even city ordinances to make people cross the street or road at designated places, but no rule, regulation or ordinance seeking to prevent pedestrians from crossing wherever they want to it legal, nor can they nullify the ruling of the Supreme Court.

It is comforting to know this, but nevertheless, we still advise you to observe the rules and not J-walk . . . it just isn't healthy.

The government will ration domestic cattle hides and calf skins. Those who have them will think it's a skin game.

Tires for wheelbarrows have also been rationed. That will mean less push.

There is a worse pest in the office than the girl who sings to herself. It's the fellow who unconsciously whistle and hums.

A sure way to save tires is to ban the gas.

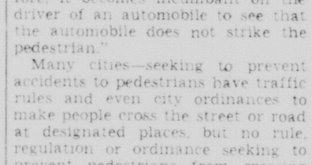
LIKES IT

Mother: What is your baby brother crying about?

Thomas: He's dug a big hole in the back yard and wants to bring it in the house.

The original manuscript of the Star Spangled Banner is in a Baltimore are gallery and is valued at $24,000.

Avoid the companionship of the cynic.



Another mystery to men is how women can be so friendly and yet so uniformly catty when discussing one another.

If the big boys in Washington did not yell out what is going to be rationed many people would not have plenty of time to stock up on the things to be rationed.

Prejudice very often prevents prosperity.

Strange but true, imitation implies admiration and jealousy.

Some people registered, and others preferred to avoid unnecessary talk till they had used the 100 pounds of sugar in the attic.

Mike: "Did you ever see a company of women silent?"
Ike: "Yeah."
Mike: "When?"
Ike: "When the chairman asked the oldest lady to speak up."

We'll all gladly sacrifice to win; what gripes us is that patriots must do without something because selfish egoists waste it.

What's What At A Glance

Jap Bombing Shows How Wars Have Changed
Present Conflict Different Than Last War
Aviation Has Made Tremendous Difference

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Old-fashioned professional fighters, on land, and, even more emphatically at sea, are beginning to admit reluctantly that World War No. 2 is about as different from No. 1 as No. 1 was different from our American War of Independence, about 150 years ahead of it. It's a transformation wrought in a couple of decades in comparison with the preceding 15.

They don't like to admit it because it makes them seem like back numbers.

Aviation is what's poisoned their original system.

It was a mere adjunct in 1914-18. They thought it was going to be the same thing again. Instead, it threatens to supplant them.

The groundlings still have hopes, as to the future. When it comes to OCCUPYING an enemy country, they reckon that surface troops will have to do the business. They are getting ready for an actual invasion of the European continental terrain. Flyers can come down via parachute, but not in sufficient numbers and at a rapid enough rate to escape being chewed up about as fast as they hit terra firma. Grounding invaders simply can roll in, in irresistible waves. That presumably is what our A. E. F. is in Ireland for—to swish, plus the English, across the Channel and swamp Germany, in co-operation with the Russians, from the other direction. Sir Stafford Cripps told parliament about it, as Winston Churchill's spokesman, a few days ago.

Flyers Pave The Way

But the aviators are expected to prepare things for this surface movement, in advance.

During World War No. 1, of which I saw quite a bit, as a news correspondent, the airman was an observer mainly. He might spill a few bombs. German airships were something of a nuisance over London, but no serious worry. The damage they did was negligible.

That was what orthodox warriors anticipated this time. Instead—My! —they raise hades.

It's reciprocated, too.

But what German air bombers have done over England and what British flyers have done to German centers like Rostock and Mannheim isn't a circumstance to Japan's vulnerability as a target for our own airmen. Brig. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle and 79 other American flyers proved this a few weeks ago without losing a single plane.

You need to have lived in Japan, as I have, to appreciate that kind of a raid's effects in the Mikado's realm.

On a second thought, I slightly qualify that reference to the Mikado.

Some unquestionably Americanly loyal locally-born Japs, whom I know, assure me that Emperor Hirohito didn't want to get into this war and that a lot of his countrymen didn't, but that they were yanked into it forcibly by Nippon's war lords, the crazy Samurai. Their dope is that we ought to propagandize decent Japan and we'll win 'em over to our side in due course.

Just now, though, is an emergency.

Momentarily the poor cusses require extermination.

So do the Germans, but they're not so easy to exterminate.

Germany is substantially built. Its factories and things can have sizable chunks blasted out of them, and still function. A Jap factory, though, resembles one of our "tempos" in Washington. Set it afire and it's a goner, for a whole group of city blocks. It isn't confined to that one, others catch quickly.

Planes Have Advantage

It can't be done naviatorially.

Most of the places aren't close enough to the seafront. Yokohama is, and so is Kobe, but not farther inland. They call for aviation. And it must make 'em holler to have bombs dropped as close to the imperial palace as LaFayette Park is to the White House—just across the street.

I know that imperial layout—a palace, with a big park around it, a wall around that and a moat surrounding the wall.

Well, it's nearly impossible to worm in on an alleged defense of that kind with a naval force. It's gotta be squashed from overhead.

Plane-carriers are fine, to get close up. Transports are vital, to land ground forces, and supply 'em. Cruisers and destroyers are essential to run errands. But big ships are getting to be superfluous.

Aviation protects 'em, more than anything else does.

Avitaion appears to be IT in modern warfare.

The World and the Mud Puddles

AN INTERESTING CASE

The whole country will be interested in the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Schneiderman case. William Schneiderman, secretary of the Communist party of California, was brought to this country from Russia when three years old and became a naturalized citizen in 1927. A district court revoked his citizenship in 1940 and a circuit court affirmed this decision. Wendell Willkie, who is arguing the appeal, has taken the case without fee because he holds this is "a vital test case" which may affect the standing of great numbers of naturalized citizens. The literature in circulation in behalf of Mr. Schneiderman carries an imposing list of names of persons and institutions.

There appears to be no charge that this foreign-born citizen has not conducted himself in a lawful manner. He is accused of having obtained naturalization "illegally and fraudently" because he did not volunteer the information that he belonged to the Young Communist League and the Communist party. He asserts that he answered truthfully every question asked of him, and in his preliminary declaration of intention in 1924 he said that he was not an anarchist. That was the only such declaration required at the time.

He also expressed his belief in organized government, and his attachment to the Constitution, while renouncing, of course, all foreign states and Russia especially. An attorney for the immigration service has contended, however, that membership in the Communist party indicates that he has no intention of supporting the Constitution and that he deliberately "conceals" his party membership.

Important matters are involved. Does membership in the Communist party as such disqualify a naturalized citizen, fifteen years after he was dully certified by the proper officials? Did he "conceal" a fact about which he was asked no questions? Would a decision against him jeopardize the standing of other naturalized citizens? Is any issue of freedom of thought at stake? Mr. Willkie deserves credit for his efforts to have the questions so answered that the problem may be settled definitely and finally.

One Man's Opinion

All details of organizing the women's army have been set except who will look under the beds.

The married women are a cinch for the infantry.

One applicant asked "where will I eat?"

The lieutenant said "you'll mess with the officers."

She said "I expected that—but where will I eat."

They may never see actual fighting at the front but there'll always be an Egbert at home.

If they do meet the enemy the chances are they'll say "hello dear, how well you're looking since you lost 20 tanks."

You can put 'em in uniform but you can't change 'em.

The army is going to let them wear rayon stockings.

HAPPIGRAMS

by ERICH BRANDEIS

A recent newspaper story told about the Pullman Company's conversion to wartime needs.

Instead of manufacturing luxurious cars for wealthy tourists and businessmen, the company now makes sub-chasers for the navy, trench mortars, howitzers, projectiles and other war materials.

In industry, luxury has given way to necessity. In many instances only the things that are needed to win the war quickly and decisively are being made.

How about you—your home, your personal life?

Are you converted to wartime necessity? Are you confining yourself to necessities?

A little less sugar. A few months of life without a car. A suit or two without cuffs on the pants. Maybe no new silk stockings for a while.

Terrible, isn't it? And yet, in Europe, thousands of children are near death from starvation, millions of men have been enslaved, innocents are being slaughtered as hostages!

Just think of that a minute. Is your coffee still too bitter?

There are two classes in every war. One asks, "What can I do for my country?" and the other, "How can I do my country?"

FAVORITE CLASSICS ON MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM

Large and enthusiastic was the crowd which attended the last regular meeting of the Music club, held in the Highland U. P. church Tuesday evening, when a program of "Favorite Classics, Old and New" was presented by the hostess, Mrs. John J. McIlvaine.

Soloists offered selections from the classical masters, Haydn, Beethoven and Brahms, through Schubert, Tschaikowsky, and Cesar Franck, to Cadman, Rachmaninoff, Frank LaForge and Mana-Zucca.

Soprano soloists were Mrs. A. H. Mellor, Mrs. William J. Caldwell, Miss Florence Thompson, Miss Elise Ridley, Mrs. J. P. Lusk and Mrs. A. P. Cummins.

Contralto numbers were sung by Mrs. George H. Strehler and Miss Julia Johns, the latter a guest artist. Also, Miss Johns' guest and roommate at Muskingum college, Miss Louise Cowden, played Chopin's "Fantasie Impromptu," opus 66.

Andrew Lisko, violinist, who won first place in the annual state music forensic competition played the two numbers with which he won the award.

Miss Virginia Woods, first piano, and John Carlin, second piano, played the first movement of Beethoven's "Emperor Concerto" in a manner that brought an excellent program to a fitting close.

Accompanists for the evening were Mrs. R. K. Allen, Mrs. Jay L. Reed, Mrs. J. M. Pyle, Miss Marjorie Fisher, and Edwin Lewis.

At the close of the program, a tea honored the retiring president, Mrs. James W. Moorehead, and the new president, Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken. Supervising the tea was Mrs. James A. Rugh.

Ushers were Mrs. William Morgan, Mrs. Paul Weller, Miss Mary Louise Griffiths and Miss Maude Mitchell.

JUNE '41 CLASS PLANNING REUNION

Tuesday evening in the home of Elaine Bollard, Garfield avenue, members of the committee for the June '41 class reunion met and made plans for the event.

It was decided that the reunion will be held on Thursday, June 11, at El Rio beach and will be private. It was decided, also, that reservations for the reunion should be made before the reunion.

Following the meeting, the committee members enjoyed a social period.

Next meeting will be June 2 in the home of Nancy Stitzinger, 206 Clenmore boulevard.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Charles Matthews, Hillcrest avenue, on Tuesday, June 30.

CLUB GROUPS JOIN FOR TEA ROOM PARTY

Yesterday afternoon the N. H. B. Kensington and the Tuesday Kensington membership joined at a tea room, 234 Highland avenue, for a social time, the occasion being in the form of a luncheon party.

After partaking of the delectable menu, the time was spent most informally. Mrs. Eliza Rounds was winner of the prize and following, Mrs. Paul D. Weller conducted a short mature radio skit. Another novel feature was the display and modeling of "old fashioned hats". This was carried out by Mrs. W. H. Williams, Mrs. Paul Weller, Mrs. LeRoy Martin and Mrs. Harry Remley.

Lewis-Murray Breach Widens

Lewis Claims CIO Owes Mine Workers Union Sum Of $1,665,000

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27. — The breach between John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers and President Philip Murray, of the CIO, was further widened today over Lewis' claims that the CIO owes the UMWA $1,665,000.

Lewis and Murray carried on a heated debate over the claims and other differences during the second day's meeting of the UMWA executive board and policy committee.

The burly miners chief made public a financial statement showing that the CIO owed the union $1,-565,000 in loans, which the UMWA would like to liquidate by deducting its monthly per capita tax of $30,-000. For the past two months the union has failed to pay its dues and now owes the CIO $60,000, but Murray has refused to accede to the demand.

Murray, also vice-president of the miners, told the delegates that the money was a gift to aid in CIO organization and strike relief.

The two labor leaders also debated heatedly Lewis' unsuccessful attempts to revive CIO-AFL peace conferences last January. Murray charged that the peace proposal was unauthorized and came as a surprise to him and other CIO officials.

Murray later issued a statement declaring:

"I told the meeting I expected to study the statement and have a categorical reply in writing shortly. On Tuesday there will be a meeting of the international board of the CIO at which we hope UMWA representatives will be present to discuss not only this question but plans designed to bring about unity between the UMWA and the CIO."

But he put his bugle to his lips and in no time at all the camp was roused. The lieutenant commented that it hadn't sounded like reveille to him.

"It wasn't," admitted Patterson. "I sounded pay call."

Annual Homecoming For Third U. P. Class

Dr. Mildred Rodgers Speaker At Annual Queen Esther Homecoming Gathering

Queen Esther class members of the Third U. P. church observed their annual homecoming on Sunday morning at 9:20 o'clock in the Loyal Band class rooms of the church, with upwards of 50 in attendance.

Misses Betty Gray and Marietta Daugherty acted on the reception committee, welcoming former and present members. Mrs. William Mooney and Mrs. Ralph Sacripant were in charge of the program, which opened with the singing of a selected hymn. Miss Daugherty led in prayer.

Mrs. Ralph Sacripant and Mrs. Joseph Phillips pleased with several duets, having for their accompanist Mrs. Morris Houk. Mrs. Mooney presented Mrs. Bernard Hook, teacher of the class, with a gift from the group as a token of appreciation for her loyal services in the past.

President Mrs. Jack Kenehan was also heard from.

Dr. Mildred Rodgers as guest speaker gave an address on "Loyalty" as a highlight on the program, and she was later presented with a special gift from the class. The presentation was made by Mrs. Lloyd Wimer, who made appropriate remarks.

Prayer and the singing of a hymn closed the reunion, and an informal social period was later enjoyed.

On June 1, Miss Leona Nolan of Winslow avenue will open her home with Mrs. Fred Thompson and Mrs. Frank Usselton as co-hostesses.

Suggests Turnpike As Route For Pipe Line

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Utilization of the Pennsylvania turnpike as a tunnel-route for any pipeline constructed to relieve the Atlantic coast oil shortage was recommended today by Rep. Samuel A. Weiss (D), Pa.

Weiss, opposed to the principle of pipelines but favoring the "most economical and efficient means" if they are found necessary, said he would lay the recommendation before the petroleum coordinator's office today.

The proposal to utilize the nation's "dream highway" would have the dual advantage of reducing the construction cost and number of Allegheny mountain pumping stations while providing a new source of revenue for the turnpike in the wartime travel-restricted period, Weiss pointed out.

The 167-mile super-highway from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg tunnels through seven mountain ridges with a maximum highway grade of three percent. It's $70,000,000 right-of-way and tunnels are already fenced and patrolled.

Anniversaries Of Ordinations To Be Observed Sunday

Rev. Charles J. Burton To Commemorate Ordinations On May 31

On Trinity Sunday, May 31, the Rev. Charles J. Burton, St. Andrew's Episcopal church, will observe at the 8:30 a. m. communion service the two anniversaries of his ordination to the sacred ministry, the 19th anniversary of his being made a deacon in St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y., on Trinity Sunday, 1923, by the Rt. Rev. David L. Ferris, D. D., and his advancement to the priesthood in Trinity church, Buffalo, N. Y., by the Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, D. D., both bishops being the bishop of Western New York.

Before entering the ministry, Mr. Burton was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad in several important positions. He is now the chaplain of the Buffalo division Veterans' Association. Rev. Mr. Burton is an exempt fireman having served with the Kane fire department of which he is now an honorary member. He is also an honorary member of the Third Battalion, 112th Pennsylvania Infantry, Kane, Pa. During World War No. 1 he was active in civilian defense work in Buffalo, N. Y., having served on the draft board, Four Minute Men, Boy Scouts, Red Cross and the New York State military census. He is also a member of the Masons and of the Eastern Star, being a past patron. He is a member of the following diocesan offices: Deputy to the Provincial Synod, secretary of the rural work committee, member of the department of Christian education, and the ecclesiastical court array. He is also a member of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Rev. Mr. Burton, by appointment of Bishop Ward, assumed charge of the Lawrence County Missions on January 1, 1939.

Number Of Driver Test Applicants Shows Decrease

Tire Rationing And Other Factors Cause Drop In Total At Exams

Examination of prospective motor vehicle operators reveals a big decrease today compared with examination days of several years ago. In fact there are less applicants who apply now than a year ago, according to observation at the local P. M. P. test station, Sampson street.

Several years ago it was not unusual for 200 or so to take an examination each Tuesday during warm weather. This year the total has rarely reached 75 and the number yesterday fell below this number.

In fact, despite industrial expansion, the total has not reached that of "WPA days." This is believed due to many persons having gone into military service, non-purchase of cars and inability to get tires.

The state motor police regulations concerning tires have not been relaxed and no applicant who operates a car with unsafe tires is given an examination.

For instance, yesterday one car had two bad tires. The applicants put on one good spare which yet left one poor tire. His application for a test was rejected.

When examinations first began here there were no tests held in Ellwood City and applicants came here. Nowadays tests are held there, which has helped decrease the number here.

POLITICS ADVISED FOR BUSINESS MEN

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS—Business men must "get into politics" whether they want to or not, according to General Manager George E. Schneider of the Association of Commerce.

Taxes and regulations imposed by legislatures in recent years make it absolutely necessary for business men to enter politics in self-protection, Schneider says. He observed that present-day legislation "has a definite social trend, almost of a Robin Hood character, which makes increased state appropriations necessary."

PLOW LAYS CABLE ACROSS COUNTRY

(International News Service)

BOSTON—New England, which has taken credit for many "firsts", now pops up with another one. The telephone cable-laying plow had its first test in New England 60 years ago April 16.

As a result of that experiment, which took place near Attleboro, the Bell System today boasts of 95 million miles of underground cable wire. Only 5 per cent of the entire network is open wire.

In 1882 an ordinary farm plow, attached to a box car drawn by a locomotive, turned a four-mile-long furrow beside the railroad track. In it a crude cable was laid—one of the first experiments in the development of cables. The test wasn't too successful.

Experiments continued, however, and the lowly plow turned out to be the forerunner of elaborate mechanical equipment, now used to dig a trench, lay a cable, then replace the earth.

Best of all is the comparatively new tractor-hauled "plow train" described as "the most remarkable plowing job of all time." It is now engaged in burying two cables simultaneously on part of the western section of an all-cable transcontinental telephone route.

The highest mountain in the world, which is situated on an island, is Mauna Kea in the Hawaiian Islands, with an altitude of 13,825 feet above sea level.

U. S. Troops Are Now Commonplace Sight In London

Doughboys Are No Longer Stared At By Britishers As They Were When They First Arrived

By KATHLEEN HARRIMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 27.—The novelty of a U. S. uniform in London has begun to wear off.

When the doughboys first hit the British capitol, they were stared at as they walked to and from their barracks. Often too they were stopped and welcomed. English Tommies saluted them mistaking their uniform for that of a British commissioned officer. And driving around town in their open air "jeep", they caused minor traffic jams of curiority. A "jeep" was something new and strange to the Londoner at the beginning. It's commonplace now.

The U. S. Army uniform blends incorspicuously with the khaki of all the other United Nations. People have stopped asking questions: Why do your officers wear light colored trousers? Why aren't you privates in battledress? What do those dangling medals mean? By now they must have learned the answers.

When the first U. S. forces arrived one of the selectee privates told me:

"In three days we'll know pretty much what's what. Give us three weeks and we'll have all the answers!"

Off duty hours are spent seeing the famous London sights. Tips, as what to see and what not to see, are provided by the old timers.

Recently I ran across one of them, Sargeant Robert E. Miller of Oneonta, N. Y. He's been in London since last June. His unofficial job is to show the new comers the ropes.

"They're having the same old trouble we had—getting to know the difference between a half-crown and two shilling—getting used to the fast English way of speaking," he told me. "It takes longest to get used to warm beer and no ice water and soda fountains though."

"The British are easy to make friends with. They've been swell to us."

In one of the inner Embassy rooms I met Private Joseph Sumrell of Greenville, N. C., and Private Samuel Fruchter of Reading, Pa. They were both in the best of spirits. Tomorrow they go off night duty and start working on the day shift.

"Now we'll have time to catch up on our sightseeing. We night duty men are a little behind the others. We haven't had a chance yet to go to some of the clubs and meet the English," they told me.

Meets Michigan Soldiers

On duty outside one of the buildings I ran into two privates from Reese, Michigan. They were Arthur van Oostenbrugge and William Kruse.

"Now that we're settled down, we're glad we're over here," they told me. Seems as though we can do more good here than at home."

"Everyone is treating us just fine," Private Kruse said. "People on the streets are glad to help us out when we get lost—and that's pretty often. The British commissioned officers come up to us in the pubs and greet us and tell us that they're glad we're here. They're all so friendly. Somehow we didn't expect them to be."

Private Oostenbrugge isn't quite so over all enthusiastic about London. He celebrated his first wedding anniversary just before he sailed but he figures if you have to be posted overseas, London is the best place to be. He wishes mail from home didn't take so long, though!

Down at their barracks, I found a company mascot—a black cat. It arrived one day, I was told, and has been sticking around ever since.

"Guess it gets better food here than anywhere else in London," someone remarked.

The cats been named Black Out—B. O. for short!

The first American ship to trade with China left here in the year 1784.

Gettysburg Field Center Of Interest For Memorial Day

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 27.—Memorial Day always brings unusually large numbers of persons to the Gettysburg battlefield, where in July, 1863, the fortunes of war turned definitely to the benefit of the North.

Visitors to this renowned battlefield, honored by the blood of brave troops from both the South and the North, a field dedicated by President Lincoln in his immortal address in November, 1863, when the national cemetery was set aside "as last resting place for those who here gave their lives," have always been startled at the immensity of the battlefield and have been proud of the statues and monuments that have been erected to honor the troops that participated in that struggle, the State Department of Commerce points out.

But there is another spot that has come in for great attention ever since 1913—the year of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle. It is the building which houses the "Cyclorama of the Battle of Gettysburg," a famous battle painting by Paul Philippoteaux. This painting has now been acquired by the United States government.

The painting, accepted by artists as an outstanding battle study, was taken from Boston to Gettysburg in 1913 and has remained in its present location near the crest of Cemetery Hill. Thousands upon thousands of visitors have viewed this realistic work of art and have acclaimed the broad perspective, the vivid detail, the close adherence to historical fact.

The painting, based upon actual photographs made in 1881 for the work of art, represents the height of the attack by General Pickett and his supporting division, totaling more than 15,000 men, against the center of the Union line, held by 10,000 troops on the afternoon of July 3, 1863. The painting depicts the Confederate charge nearing the Angle where General Hancock's men were strongly barricaded back of the stone wall. General Armistead who, with 150 Confederates, had crossed the wall is shown falling 25 yards within the Union lines, mortally wounded. General Cushing's battery, badly shattered resisting the heavy onslaught but firing to the last, is shown being relieved by a reserve battery rushing from the rear at top speed. Reserve Union troops move forward at double quick to reinforce the first line. Surgeons are busy at a field hospital just back of the line. Guns burst forth from Cemetery Ridge and Little Round Top. Nearby is the copse of trees used by Pickett as his objective during the charge and now known as the High Water Mark of the Confederacy. Here took place the last great effort of General Lee to break the Union line at Gettysburg and Gettysburg became the turning point of the war.

Paul Philippoteaux, a noted painter of battle scenes in Europe, came to Gettysburg in 1881 and made sketches and studies of the battlefield based on wartime and post-war photographs, war records in Gettysburg and Washington, interviews with Generals Hancock, Doubleday, Webb and others who commanded Union troops at The Angle—known in history as "The Bloody Angle." Having informed himself thoroughly of details of the battlefield and of the battle, he returned to Paris and with the assistance of five artists he completed the painting in two years. The Cyclorama painting, measuring 400 feet in length by 50 feet in height, was first exhibited in Boston in 1885 on the twenty-second anniversary of the battle, and was taken to Gettysburg in 1913.

The Cyclorama, now operated by the National Park Service, Department of the Interior, is open thruout the week and is attended by members of the Gettysburg National Military Park staff.

Governor James To Make Address At Commencement

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, May 27.—Speakers for the principal events at the 62nd annual Commencement activities at Grove City College will be Governor Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania, and the Rev. Stuart Nye Hutchison D. D., pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church and the newly elected moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

Governor James will deliver the Commence ment Day address to the graduates, June 10th, while Doctor Hutchison, who has been a trustee of the college here since 1928, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon, Sunday evening, June 7th.

FIERCE FIGHTING

In three days of fierce fighting at Gettysburg the Union cannon fired only 33,000 shells.

Russia Receives Medical Supplies Through Red Cross

Three And A Half Million Dollars Worth Of Supplies Sent In Recent Months

Ralph F. Davis, chairman, Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, has received word that the American Red Cross has sent more than $3,500,000 worth of drugs, medical supplies and clothing to the U. S. S. R. in recent months, for aid to the victims of warfare. This amount will be approximately doubled within a short time.

Approximately 500,000 garments for men, women and children, valued at $1,200,000 was included, a quantity of which was produced by volunteers in Red Cross chapters, and other heavy garments were purchased. Shoes for men, women and children, blankets and soap were other major items.

Soap in large quantities was needed, because personal cleanliness has been found to be the most effective weapon to combat the danger of typhus.

In response to the request received through the Union of Red Cross and Red Crescent societies, the American Red Cross sent 1,625,000 pounds of laundry and toilet soap, and soon will dispatch 100 tons of surgeon's green soap. A donation of 100,000 cakes of toilet soap by the Hershey Corporation to the Red Cross, also was included in the shipment.

Among the drugs sent were one million sulfapyridine tablets, four million of sulfanilamide and one and a half million quinine, as well as one thousand pounds of iodine.

Hospital supplies ranged from one million hypodermic needles to X-ray equipment valued at $270,000. It included such items as 200,000 hot water bags, 295,000 pairs of surgical gloves, 20,000 tourniquets, 60,000 syringes, 850,000 forceps, 100,000 rolls of adhesive plaster and 36,000 two and three inch bandages.

The list of medical supplies needed in Russia was drawn up in conferences between representatives of the Union of Red Cross, who accompanied the official governmental missions of Great Britain and the United States to the U. S. S. R. last fall.

DISTANCE SHRINKS

The distance around the equator has shrunk 1½ miles in the last 100 years, according to scientists.

But no matter how desperate the situation, we mustn't build great plants to make artificial rubber. Might ball up business after the war.

Memorial Day In State Recalls Johnstown Flood

HARRISBURG, P., May 27.—Natives of Johnstown have good reason to remember Memorial Day since it was one day after that, 53 years ago, that an avalanche of water swept down the Conemaugh Valley to cause what will always be remembered as the "Johnstown Flood".

At the time, Johnstown and its vicinity had a population of approximately 30,000 persons.

Early on Friday, May 31, 1889, a freshet in Stony creek which unites with the Conemaugh river to form the valley, broke away the boom above the town inundating some houses. Later in the afternoon the dam of the South Fork lake broke, water sweeping with it everything from houses to people and livestock. More than 2,000 lives were lost and the damage was estimated at $10,000,000.

Today, in Grandview cemetery, in the high suburb of Westmont, lie 777 unidentified victims of the Johnstown flood.

One of the survivors was Dr. Victor Heiser, author of "An American Doctor's Odyssey," in which he relates his experience. The people of the Cambria county community rebuilt their city and re-established their industrial plants and in recent years engineering accomplishments have been made to prevent another such disaster.

Federal Reserve Bank Representative Explains Restrictions To Conserve Funds

CREDIT BUYING NOW RESTRICTED

At a meeting Tuesday evening, sponsored by the New Castle Credit Exchange and held in the Y.W.C.A. auditorium, Paul V. Smeal, representative of the Federal Reserve bank, active in the administration of approximately 100 representatives of various credit estbalishments throughout the county.

During the early part of the program, Mr. Smeal devoted his time in reading and interpreting the many rules and regulations as they apply to consumer credit, and later devoted much time to the answering of questions. The meeting proved of value to the many who attended.

Mr. Smeal stated that the President in his special message to Congress on April 27, 1942, said that credit and installment buying must be discouraged to keep the cost of living from spiraling, and urged the payment of debts and mortgages to promote savings and make funds available for purchase of war bonds.

In order to comply with this request, the board of governors of the Federal Reserve system on May 6 revised Regulation W, relating to consumer credit, which has been extended to cover a comprehensive list of durable and semi-durable goods for civilian consumption.

The list includes auto batteries and accessories, tires, tubes, bedding, draperies, binoculars, household electrical appliances not listed before, used furniture, jewelry, glassware, yard goods, non-military clothing and furs, and certain other items. The maximum permissable maturity of instalment sales, has with few exception been reduced to 12 months, and the required down payment has been increased to 33 1-3 per cent.

The scope of the regulation has been broadened to cover, in addition to instalment sales and loans, charge-account sales of listed articles and single-payment consumer loans. On charge account sales if the payment is not made by the 10th day of the second calendar month following the purchase, further credit is refused on listed items until payment is made in full.

Single-payment loans of $1,500 or less are limited to a maturity of 90 days, and while such loan is to purchase listed articles costing $15 or more, the amount of the loan is limited. If not paid in 90 days, the loan must be placed on an instalment basis. Dealers and lenders licensed under the original regulation are not required to register again, but others must register with the Federal Reserve bank, either at Cleveland, Cincinnati or Pittsburgh.

Ecclesian Club Social Meeting

Members of the Women's Ecclesian club and Ecclesian club met Tuesday evening in the Ecclesian club room, South Jefferson and South streets, where they enjoyed a social meeting.

Paul Ellsworth was the general chairman for the event, and card playing and other diversions were pastimes of the evening. An added feature was the entertainment provided by the Donati Hawaiian guitar band.

A delicious lunch was served later in the evening, those on the serving committee being: Mrs. William Clingan, Mrs. Francis W. Frey, Mrs. Clarence Klaber, Mrs. Francis J. Frey, Mrs. A. Laurel and Mrs. Joseph Windl. June 9 is the date for the next meeting.

GRANGE NEWS

LIBERTY GRANGE

On Monday evening, May 25, the Liberty Grange degree team exemplified the third and fourth degrees of the patrons of husbandry to a class of eighteen candidates.

Willard, Plaingrove, East New Castle and Worth Grange of Butler county were represented by candidates in this class. Past State Master J. A. Boaw exemplified the unwritten work of these two degrees.

Worthy Pomona Master W. H. McCullough was present and gave a short talk on Grange matters.

On June 2, Liberty Grange will honor the work of Flora in the Grange. The following program will be presented at that meeting:

Music, In the Garden—Grange.
Legend of Flora—Mrs. Anna McCracken.
Music, When You Wore a Tulip—Harold Johnson.
Reading, A Package of Seeds—Mrs. Anna Livingston.
Music, My Wild Irish Rose—Harry Sechler.
Flora Up to Date—By six girls.
How to Arrange Flowers in a Bouquet—Mrs. Gladys McConnell.
Quiz—Do you know your flowers?
Song—Selected.

MAHONING VALLEY GRANGE

Mahoning Valley Grange had it's annual Memorial service in connection with the meeting Tuesday evening, when tribute was paid to the memory of two who have passed on during the past year, Charles Robison and Arthur Wright.

The program was in charge of the chaplain, Merle Davis, and was as follows:

Selection—Lead Kindly Light.
Scripture—Wilson Davis.
Invocation—Chaplain, with musical response.
Reading—The Silent Maren, Ruth Davis.
Selection—Abide with Me.
Memorial Address—Rev. Kenneth Shephard, pastor of Mahoning United Presbyterian church.
Roll call of deceased and decoration of altar.
Vocal duet—Mrs. Ralph Allison and Mrs. Merle Davis.
Reading—Crossing the Bar—Chaplain.
Closing song—God Be With You.
Benediction.

Lanigan-Covert Visit Home Town

Members Of Famous Vaudeville Team For Many Years Drop In For Day

Ralph Lanigan and Frank Covert, a score or more years ago two of the greatest dance stars in vaudeville today returned to this city for a visit and while they have upon occasions singly visited their home town it was the first time in 25 years that both returned at the same time. They came from Cleveland, their present residence, this morning.

Thirty-five years ago they played the Opera House in South Mercer street. They had a singing, talking and acrobatic dance.

While here they visited Jake Rentz, manager of The News and also Ed. Fritz, Sports Editor.

Lanigan, Covert and Fritz recalled their first meetings in Boston and New York almost 30 years ago and of later meeting here.

Lanigan is the chief guard at the county courthouse in Cleveland and Covert operates a school of dancing in Cleveland.

During their visit today they circulated among the boys of yesteryear with whom they were reared before they went out to become two of the best dancers in the world.

We all know baseball can help morale, but how can we arrange to have every home team win every time?

Two More Men Join Marines

Bringing the total for the New Castle office to 24 for the month of May, Sergeant John Dean announced today that two more men had joined the United States Marines.

They are Max Windish, 923 Hamilton street, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Windish of New Castle, and Frederick W. Doorfeld, 284 Clinton street, Greenville.

The New Castle total of 24 is high among the sub-districts, Sgt. Dean said, but the need for Marine recruits is heavy and that figure still leaves him short of the quota. He appealed for more and more men to help the United States win the war.

USO Reports Now To Be Made At 'Y'

Roger W. Rowland, chairman of the Lawrence county USO drive, announced today that all workers should turn their reports in to R. L. Meermans as soon as they are complete. He expressed satisfaction at the results so far and said that he hoped the campaign would be finished in a week.

TWO DISTRICT MEN JOIN THE ARMY

Sergeant John T. Bilpuch announced that the army had gained two more recruits today. They are William H. Weinschenk, 224 Edgewood avenue, New Castle, and Harry H. Retort of Edinburg.

Hospital Services Shown

The highly diversified services extended by the Jameson Memorial and the New Castle hospitals under the non-profit group hospitalization plan in which both hospitals are participating are shown in these pictures.

Top left, hospital care following an accident; top right, child of member receiving treatment; middle left, use of operating room; middle right, routine laboratory examination; lower left, pharmacy view; lower right, maternity care.

The Hospital Service association represents the New Castle and the Jameson Memorial hospitals in the movement to widen the scope of hospital treatment. An increased level of public health is held to be of vital importance in speeding armament production and otherwise aiding America's war effort.

Bessemer High Has Class Night

Appreciative Audience See Class Night Program Presented By Graduates Of 1942

One of the largest crowds during this commencement season was noted at the class night program, presented by the graduating class of the Bessemer High school Tuesday evening.

The patriotic theme predominated throughout the entire program and red, white and blue streamers and the V for victory were used in the decorations for the stage. Class motto, "Not Finished—Just Begun," was displayed. Miss Helen Eakin, teacher, is sponsor of the class, and Joe Ferraro is the class president, and he was chairman for the class night program.

On Thursday, May 28, graduation exercises will take place for the students. Dr. R. W. Cordier of Clarion State Teachers' college will be the main speaker.

The program staged last evening was as follwos:

Scene: An unveiling ceremony.

Many Women Seeking To Enter WAAC Service

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—With some 200 Philadelphia women already holding application blanks, the war department today expected an avalanche of recruits at formal opening of the drive for officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

The ladies stormed the offices of Lieut. Col. Frederick Schoenfeld one day in advance and he hadn't the heart to turn them down. Only 450 officers will be selected throughout the country for the first training course—and 30 of them will be chosen from Philadelphia.

Miss Madeline Martin, 26, Philadelphia's first applicant, said her brother and her fiance are serving with the army in Hawaii. "That's reason enough for me to join," she remarked.

Park Commissioner Denounces Move To Censor Bathing Suits

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 27.—If Park Commissioner Robert Moses has his way its going to be all right for gals to expose their calves, midriff and other parts of the body which do not violate the laws of decency as they parade in their bathing costumes in New York streets.

The park commissioner today denounced as a "step toward police censorship of all bathing costumes" the bill passed by the city council which makes it unlawful for all persons to appear in a bathing suit, shorts or sun-suit on any boardwalk, street or sidewalk more than 150 feet from the beach.

HAS THUMB CUT

Harry Pascarella, aged 30 years, of 1413 Croton avenue, a jiggerman at the Shenango Pottery, was treated at the Jameson Memorial Hospital Tuesday evening, for a bad laceration of the right thumb, received while at work at the Shenango Pottery.

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The Caesarean operation was not named after Julius Caesar.

Who started that popular Caesarean rumor?

Must have been Pliny, old Roman historian.

He spoke of infants born by an incision of the mother.

He avowed mistakenly that one such was the first of the Caesars.

The first successful Caesarean came after Caesar.

Julius Caesar's mother lived long after his birth.

The name "Caesar" came from the word "caedo", to cut.

A child was cut from the body of its dead mother.

It came to be called by a name suggesting "caedo."

Caesarean operations now save countless mothers and babies.

But definitely Julius, the Mighty Caesar, was not thus born.

Democratic 'Whip' Will Be Selected

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Pennsylvania's Democratic delegation in Congress planned to caucus this afternoon to recommend successor to the late Patrick J. Boland as House majority whip and a member of the ways and means committee.

Members of the delegation, reduced to 16 active congressmen by the Scranton leader's death last week, said a definite choice for the ways and means post would be made at the caucus.

Rep. Herman P. Eberharter, of Pittsburgh, was reported to be the favored candidate for the committee membership, although Rep. James P. McGranery, of Philadelphia, was being prominently discussed.

Home Economic Students Do Their Part In War Effort

"Make America strong by making Americans strong" has been the motto of the New Castle High School Home Economics course since Pearl Harbor. As a matter of fact, the entire Home Economics course has been pointed this past year towards enabling the students to take an active and valuable part in the war effort.

In the food courses, especially, the girls have co-operated in the national effort to improve American diets. They are taught to prevent "hidden hunger"—that hunger that exists even though the stomach is full, because of a lack of certain protective foods, rich in vitamins, minerals and complete proteins.

Students in the home economics course were asked to check up on their families diets for a week and report any deficiencies. It was found that most of the checked families were eating too much meat and potatoes and not enough fresh fruits and vegetables. The girls are shown, by laboratory experiments, how the "hidden hunger" weakers people, and they have become, according to the teachers, disciples in their own homes for better diets.

Emphasis has been put on better diet for less money. In learning how to improve diets, the girls in the high school home economics course are doing their part in strengthening the home front.

In clothing classes, too, the war has made its presence known. Costs of cotton and woolens have gone up and are harder to get today because the Army and Navy need miles and miles of cottons and woolens for themselves. So the emphasis in this year's clothing classes has been put on conservation of clothing and remodeling. The girls are making another definite contribution to our war effort by learning to make clothes last longer and look better.

On June 5, 30 girls will receive vocational home economics diplomas and it is this reporter's guess that these 30 girls, out of all the girls graduating, are the only ones who could run a home healthfully and economically if they had to do it tomorrow.

To give us an instance of the ability of her girls, Mrs. Viola H. Sadler, head of the home economics department, told us how one Junior A student had reduced her families weekly food bill five dollars this winter by following out the shopping instructions she had received in class.

Besides the food and clothing work, the girls have to take courses in English, "math", history and civics so that they have the major portions of the regular high school education as well as their economic work.

Motor Police Will Again Be Greeters At Border Points

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 27.—Pennsylvania motor police have again been assigned to various ports of entry to the state to greet visitors and furnish them with maps and other vacation data, the State Department of Commerce reported today.

It will be the duty of the officers to stop non-resident motorists and in a manner of friendliness and helpfulness present them with the Pennsylvania motor police publication, "To Our Visiting Motorists", and various pieces of descriptive literature put out by the State Department of Commerce.

The ports of entry will be in operation during June, July, August and September.

Officers have been assigned to the following places: Highway Route 40 near the West Virginia state line; Routes 30 and 22 east of their junction, near Imperial; Routes 422 and 224 west of New Castle; Route 15, south of Gettysburg, near the Maryland state line; Route 15 at Lawrenceville; Route 611 between Portland and Slateford; Routes 6 and 220 near Towanda; Route 11 near the New York state line; Route 13 near the Delaware state line; Route 1, south of Oxford, near the Maryland line, and on Route 22 west of Freemansburg.

LONDON TO HOUSE BOMBING VICTIMS

(International News Service)

LONDON. — A million London householders have been served with special "billeting forms."

"The object of the census," said a ministry of health official, "is to find out where homeless people can be billeted in case of an emergency."

The form requires the householder to state the number of people living in the house or apartment and how many rooms there are. This kind of census already has been carried out in 750 other areas all over the British Isles covering 5,000,000 homes.

NATURALIZATION COURT

Final examinations for citizenship are being heard in the court house at the present time with Examiner Edward Rudick in charge. About 125 will be examined before the work is through and of these few are being turned back. After the examiner questions the applicants and they are granted citizenship, Judge W. Walter Braham administers the oath of citizenship to them.

In the class are men and women who formerly were subjects of other governments. None are called who owe allegiance to Germany, Italy, Hungary, Bulgaria or Rumania.

A NEW LAWYER

Rex Rowland, son of Court Reporter and Mrs. F. M. Rowland began his career on Tuesday in Pittsburgh in the law offices of Smith, Buchanan and Ingersoll. Mr. Rowland was supposed to have graduated from the Cornell law school on Tuesday but was excused from being present.

He graduated from New Castle High school and Westminster college and then took up court reporting, becoming an expert. Three years ago he entered the law school of Cornell university. He will take the bar examination in July.

TAX CARDS

Tax cards for the townships and boros are now ready to be mailed according to County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer. They will not be mailed until the treasurer is in his proper quarters as the facilities for paying taxes just now are not too good.

Mr. Wimer and his staff will be in their remodeled quarters in about two weeks, it is thought. Work of remodelling the corridor and the various offices is about completed. The floor covering will be laid on the corridor over Memorial Day and the painting and varnishing is nearly through.

HIDDEN TREASURE

The stair railing at the back end of the corridor has turned out to be a hidden treasure. Years ago it was painted with some indefinite color of dark paint and an attempt made to grain it. The color did not harmonize with the wood panelling along the walls and a few days ago the county commissioners decided to have the paint scraped off and the wood colored to match the oak.

Instead of poplar or spruce the painters found beautiful walnut. There will be no paint or stain put over it again for it is a handsome piece of work in its natural color.

SPORTSMEN'S DELIGHT

The new acreage of the Sportsmen's association located in Neshannock township will be a sportsmen's delight. Workmen are erecting buildings on it, a stream running through it will provide boating, trap and skeet courts will be set up and before the end of the summer it will be a real spot.

The ground was purchased from the county commissioners by Andrew Dodds, who acted for the Sportsmen's Association. About 112 acres comprise the plot.

Greater Share Of War Production Program To Go To Smaller Plants

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The House on Tuesday passed and returned to the Senate the amended Murray-Patman bill to assure small business a greater share in the war production program.

The vote was 344 to 0.

Meanwhile, the Senate prepared to pass the first comprehensive measure permitting payment of war subsidies to business and agriculture.

The Senate measure which expands borrowing power of the Reconstruction Finance corporation by $5,000,000,000 and provides $1,000,000,000 for the Commodity Credit corporation, also carries subsidizing authority.

Plans have been disclosed for government subsiding of coal shipments to New England by absorbing the higher transportation cost, estimated at $1 a ton, caused by the submarine warfare. Coal which usually goes to New England by sea must now move by rail.

Sen. Brown (D) Michigan., in charge of the bill, said that subsidies may be paid oil companies because of the higher cost of moving oil and gasoline to the East by rail, and that coffee transportation subsidies may also be paid.

"The reports are, however, that the general price ceiling plan is working out and that not many lines will have to be subsidized," he said.

Subsidies may be paid on some agricultural commodities in order to increase production, especially oil-bearing crops.

The $5,000,000,000 increase for the RFC is designed to permit it to carry on far-flung activities such as construction of new war plants and acquisition of strategic metals.

Automobile tires cost from $75 to $90 and were supposed to be good for 2,500 miles, 31 years ago.

Rev. Shoemaker Will Join Navy As Chaplain Soon

Rev. E. A. Shoemaker, pastor of Westfield Presbyterian church, is awaiting word from the Navy Department to leave as a chaplain with the United States Navy.

Mr. Shoemaker has passed both his physical and theological tests and expects to hear from the Navy within the next six weeks. He took tests at Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, and at Philadelphia where the national office of the Presbyterian church is located.

At the present time, Rev. Shoemaker is visiting his father, Dr. Benton F. Shoemaker, in Beechwood, Pa.

No Labor Draft Asserts McNutt

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, pledged today that "there will be no draft of labor" despite the need for 10,000,000 new workers by the end of 1942.

"Just as most industries converted themselves in large measure by voluntary action, so American workers will switch jobs freely and enthusiastically," McNutt told a junior Board of Commerce assembly.

"But also," he warned, "just as in some cases where irresponsible management or self-interest intervened and government issued orders or even took over plants, so for that small minority which opposes its self-interest to the public interest, compulsion may be necessary."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Columbus Society Memorial Parade

Plans have been completed for the annual Memorial Day parade, to be held in the ward, on Saturday, May 30, which will be sponsored by the Christopher Columbus society, 7 South Liberty street.

The parade will start at 9:30 a. m. sharp, from the Christopher Columbus hall, led by the society's band, and members of the C. C. society.

The Immaculate Conception, and Holy Rosary sodalities of St. Lucy church and the St. Margaret's society will take part in the parade.

The parade will march to St. Lucy's cemetery, where services will be conducted by Rev. Father Sebastian Ippolito. There will also be Memorial Day addresses given.

Leaving the cemetery, the parade will march back to the C. C. society hall, where all will disband.

Old Fashion School Party By K.J.U. Class

On Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church Sunday school room the K. J. U. class entertained the husbands and friends of the class.

The evening entertainment consisted of an "old fashioned school and a spell down," with Mrs. Ernest Farver and Mrs. G. O. Scheidemantle winners. The old fashioned school was carried out with each "pupil" enjoying a box lunch.

There were games and pep singing was led by E. L Farver

Those in charge of the entertainment were Mrs. Arthur Walker, Mrs. E. L. Vincent, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Doris Onasch. The menu committee was Mrs. George Horchler and Mrs. Raymond Fisher.

Ellwood High Senior Class Is Graduated

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—With the Commencement address being given by Rev. Frank A. Sharp, minister of education, First Baptist church, Pittsburgh, a class of 212 seniors was graduated from the Ellwood City high school on Tuesday evening.

An overflow crowd of several hundred relatives and friends saw the students receive their diplomas which were presented by Paul F. Luther, president of the Board of Education with the class presentation being made by Ralph C. Shaffer, principal.

Miss Mary Margaret Carr gave the salutatory address, which was a complete and informative history of the American flag from its first forms to the present time.

Valedictorian, Miss Betty Jane Relph, had for her subject, "Our Patriotism," and indicative of the times it centered about the loyalty and courage of American soldiers on battlefronts of this war as well as on the home front.

Paul V. Hough delighted the assemblage with an excellent rendition of a difficult piano selection, and the mixed chorus under the direction of Paul Winter sang two favorite numbers, "Love Greetings" and "Come To The Fair."

Presents Speaker

Superintendent of schools, J. Ellis Bell, presented the speaker who had for his subject, "What It Takes To Make Good." His suggestions for making good were parallel to the story he told of the unknown and unsung, Henry, the navigator, who for forty years experimented in sailing, when sailing was an unheard of and persons with such ideas were considered mad. In the face of ridicule and unbelief, he went on to finally discover the Canary Islands, which were only one thousand miles from his native Portugal. In themselves his discoveries were of no great importance but through his perseverance he won many recruits, among them Christopher Coulmbus and Magallen, who profiting by his experiences discovered new worlds.

While there are no new worlds to conquer today, the speaker told the students that the attitude "It can't be done" concerning the changing of world conditions can be overcome with knowledge, perseverance and hard work. It can be accomplished only when people stop thinking entirely of themselves and what they are going to get out of every thing, and turn to an unselfish devotion of truth and liberty. Push not "pull" is the magic word that will lead to success, Rev. Sharp concluded.

Rev. W. E. Minteer offered the invocation and the benediction was given by Rev. Howard F. Loch.

Billy Schlusser Marble Champ

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—Billy Schlusser retained the crown as Ellwood City's marble champion when he defeated Charles Barkley of the Lincoln high school in a hot championship match held in Ewing Park yesterday afternoon.

Billy represented the Hartman school this year and last June participated in the northeast sectional finals at Hershey, Pa. A large and enthusiastic crowd of rooters which gathered in a circle on the hard ball diamond in Ewing Park to watch the final game of six school champions cheered their hearts out for their school champion and after Joe Tammero of the West End, Paul Kay of Ewing Park, William Nido of Circle school and Sam Besso of the northside were eliminated, the championship play was between Charles Barkley of Lincoln high school and Billy Schlusser of the Hartman school. Schlusser played a cool championship match bested Barkley in two successive games to retain the city marble crown.

Schlusser will have all his expenses paid to the Northeast Sectional Marble Finals at Cleveland, Ohio. The sectional finals will be held from June 14 to the 18.

Couple Honored By Providence Group

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dougherty, who are leaving Saturday to make their home, in Gary, Ind., were delightfully honored at a farewell party last evening held at their home by members of the Adult Bible classes of the Providence Baptist church. Mr. Dougherty has been employed by the National Tube company for the past three years and has been transferred to the new factory at Gary.

Games were enjoyed and one that caused much merriment was the shooting of a small cannon which contained fifty feet of handkerchiefs for the honor guests. The entertainment was directed by Mrs. Fay Main, Mrs. Clyde Brewer and Mrs. Joyce Smith. Mr. Dougherty, who is an excellent amateur magician, delighted the group by performing the Hindu rope trick.

A brief devotional period was led by Mrs. J. R. Routledge and in conclusion the group forming a large V sang "Blest Be The Tie."

As the final feature a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. G. N. Hazen and Mrs. Ralph Steffler assisted by Mary Elizabeth Hazen and Betty Steffler.

Junior High Has Memorial Assembly

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—The final high school assembly program was held this morning and was a Memorial program conducted by the local patriotic organizations. Mrs. S. R. Berstler was the general chairman.

Albert Fabian presided with Rev. L. A. Lightfritz, pastor of the Lilyville Church of God, giving an interesting talk of "Heroism". Other program features were selections by the mixed chorus directed by Paul Winter and a reading by Alice Shirley.

The Ellwood schools will have final sessions of the year on Thursday afternoon with all pupils to report for promotion cards on Friday afternoon.

Interesting Facts About Graduates Are Given By Supt. Bell

Ellwood College Club Scholarship Is Awarded To Mary Margaret Carr

ELLWOOD CITY, May 27.—One of the looked forward to events of the commencement program each year is the interesting facts about the class given by Superintendent J. Ellis Bell. Last night Mr. Bell gave the following facts:

"There were 365 pupils enrolled in this group when it entered the ninth grade in September, 1938. Tonight there are 212 pupils in the graduating class. Of the original 365, 58 per cent are gradutaing. Of this number, 70 are tuition pupils, or 33 per cent.

"The total number of graduates for the school year, including the present class and the mid-year group, is 296. This is slightly less than the number graduating during the school year 1940-41 which was 310.

"There are no pupils in this class who have perfect attendance records. Dominick Magnifico has the best attendance record, having missed only eight days in 12 years and not having been tardy a single time.

"Joe Walton and Carl Walton have the distinction of having traveled the farthest to get their education. They have traveled approximately 11 miles each day. Their home is in Wayne township.

"The honor of having the most brothers and sisters graduated from this high school goes to Joseph Roland Barberio. He is the eighth member of his family of Barberios to graduate.

"Some additional information concerning Roland Barberio is that he was a member of the band for six years and has carried newspapers for six years. Roland saved all his money which he got from selling newspapers for a college education. He has enrolled at Geneva college to take up his pre-medical work and expects to be able to pay for his pre-medical training by himself with the money he has saved from selling newspapers, which is close to $1000.

"David Cartwright is also leaving on tonight's train for Notre Dame aeronautical school of engineering.

"Only one member of the group can boast that both parents have been graduated from the Ellwood City high school, Betty Jane Relph. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Relph, graduated from the Ellwood City high school in 1920.

"Two members of the class received the eighth grade American Legion award and have graduated with distinction in their class work which is an indication that their classmates' confidence was not misplaced when they were chosen as the outstanding pupils of the eighth grade group. The award was made to Betty Jane Relph and Fred Knight, both graduating with honors—one being president of the class and the other valedictorian of the class.

"Six members of the class are members of the band: John Shallenberger, David Cartwright, Ray Crans, Joseph Roland Barberio and Betty Jane Graham.

"Two members of the class were also members of the orchestra: David Klindienst and Joe Walton.

"Two members of the class are champion spellers of the senior high school. Fred Knight is the best speller among approximately 1000 pupils and Albert Petrak is second best.

"We have a pair of twins graduating with this class—Mary Louise Weygant and Robert Weygant, children of Leslie A. Weygant, R. D. 2, Ellwood City. They were born December 23, 1924.

"The youngest member to graduate is Albert Petrak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Petrak, R. D. 2, Ellwood City. He was born on November 26, 1925, and is exactly 16 years 6 months tonight.

"The following are football lettermen: James Bellissimo, Albert D'Amico, David Douthitt, Glenn Koach, Earl Presto, Louis D'Biagio, Albert Wilson and Ernest Reinheimer.

"Basketball players in the graduating class are John Dan, Harold Daubenspeck and Louis D'Biagio.

"For the second year, the Ellwood City College club is awarding a scholarship to a senior girl who plans to go to college. Last year the award was made to Harriet Danner, who is making a very fine record at Westminster college.

"Now, it is my privilege to present this $100 scholarship in the name of the Ellwood City College club to Miss Mary Margaret Carr."

SHOULD YOU HAVE A LICENSE?

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland stated today that the general license granted by Amendment No. 3 of Regulation W to instalment sellers of bicycles, lawn mowers, silverware, clocks and watches, photographic equipment and floor coverings expires next Sunday, May 31.

In order to engage in instalment selling of such articles after that date a vendor must file a registration statement, form F.R. 563-a, with the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland or one of its branches (located in Cincinnati and Pittsburgh) prior to May 31. Forms for registration may be obtained on request from either the bank or its branches. If an organization has previously registered with the Federal Reserve Bank, further registration at this time is not required.

Those merchants who sell the above-mentioned items only on an open or charge account basis are not subject to the May 31 expiration date, but it is suggested that such vendors register promptly if they have not already done so because the general license applicable to such concerns will terminate in the near future.

To sell listed articles on a credit basis without a license after the expiration of the general license is a violation of Regulation W.

BERATES DRAFT DODGERS
(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa.—For borrowing his brother's child to claim exemption from the draft, a Columbia county man was recently sentenced to serve time in a federal penitentiary.

"You're a foul kind of person. I don't think there is any place for you in the army. You conspired to cheat the government. You're no good," Federal Judge Albert L. Watson declared as he sentenced the draft evader, Abraham L. Musselman of Orangeville, to three years imprisonment.

Noted Soprano In USO Concert

All Proceeds From Concert At Washington High On June 2 For USO

DOROTHY FISHER TO GIVE PIANO SOLOS

L. MARA GIACHINO

Appearing in a concert for the USO, sponsored by the New Castle teachers, is Miss L. Mara Giachino, lyric and dramatic soprano. The concert will be on June 1 at George Washington Junior high school, where Miss Dorothy Fisher will also present piano numbers. All the proceeds will be given to the USO fund.

Miss Giachino, appearing with Dorothy Fisher, New Castle's pianist, began her studies in Turin, Italy, when she was ten. A few years later she came to the land of freedom and opportunity, America, and won several scholarships, among which was a voice fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate school.

Miss Giachino has given successful recitals in New York City, in and around New Jersey and at Yale University. She is studying under Hardesty Johnson at the present time.

The soprano said she was more than glad to donate her talents to a cause as worthy as the USO. Tickets are $1.00 and 75c for adults and 50c for school children and may be obtained at any school, Flemings, Donati's and the Work-Basket. All the proceeds are for the USO.

Judge Lamoree Imposes Fine For Contempt

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—Albert Deangelo of Pittsburgh sat in the Allegheny county jail today and reflected that words can be expensive—especially when they cost $500.

Deangelo, a defendant in a robbery trial, contended that all he said was "hello" to the jury foreman.

The foreman, however, said Deangelo remarked: "You're a member of my jury. Don't pull any boners."

Visiting Judge John G. Lamoree of New Castle said it didn't make any difference whether it was one word or two sentences. Deangelo was fined $500 for contempt of court.

Sailor Treated For Broken Ankle

Ralph V. O'Connell, aged 34 years, of 5017 Lennox avenue, Shrewsburg, Mo., one of the sailors who came here Tuesday morning with the detachment from Great Lakes Naval Training Station for special mechanical training at the N. Y. A. center, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for an injury to his ankle.

O'Connell, it was stated, had fallen on a set of steps at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, the injury causing him considerable pain. Examination at the hospital revealed a bone was fractured and his ankle was placed in a cast, after which he was taken back to the N. Y. A. center.

'TAIL-END CHARLIE' MAKES RAF GASP
(International News Service)

LONDON.—Best RAF story now going the rounds is that of a rear-gunner—known as "Tail-End Charlie" in the service.

He climbed out of his turret when his bomber landed at its base, ran around to tell his captain that he had made "a darned rough landing."

The plane landed without a pilot, so the story goes. There had been difficulties on the return from a bombing raid, and the captain had given instructions to abandon the ship. "Tail-End Charlie" had not heard the instructions.

The pilot and rest of the crew had bailed out—and the bomber had floated gracefully on and landed itself at the proper airfield.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 10c and 25c.

NEW UNIT WILL SAVE TIN
(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—A new electrolytic tin plating unit is under construction at the Niles tin mill, Republic Steel Corp. announced recently.

Although cost of construction has not been estimated, much of the engineering has already been done and equipment has been built. The new unit will cut consumption of tin in half, reduce costs and conserve metal, according to company engineers.

21 Dead in Pennsylvania Floods

Dorothy McQueston sits on the steps leading to her home dangling her feet in the flood waters which surround her house at Gladwyn, Pa. The Schuylkill River overflowed near here, washing out bridges, wrecking homes and basements of business establishments. At least 21 persons died and seventeen others were reported missing after flood waters swept over Lackawanna and northern Lucerne Counties. Damage was estimated in the millions. More than 4,000 were made homeless. (Central Press)

Zionist Youth Leader To Speak To Junior Hadassah

New Castle unit of Junior Hadassah, the Young Women's Zionist organization of America, is sponsoring a special supper this evening at The Castleton in honor of Miss Geraldine Kassover, of Bayonne, N. J., a member of the national board of Junior Hadassah.

Miss Kassover, who has won her spurs as an informative and impressive speaker in New York, is making a three-week tour of thirteen Pennsylvania cities to address youth audiences on the part which Palestine is taking in the war effort of the United Nations and on the program of Junior Hadassah in aiding the young fighters and workers of Palestine and in activities in American defense.

Miss Sarah Elefant, president of the New Castle unit of Junior Hadassah, states a special program has been arranged for this event which Miss Kassover will address.

During the program, the opening prayer will be given by Irene Greenberg, and the closing prayer by Rose Katz.

LOSES HIS WHISKERS

HARRISBURG—Private Charles C. Scrimalli, 27, former amateur and professional boxer, was compelled to shave his three-year-old beard when he was inducted into the army at the near New Cumberland reception center. Physicians had advised him to grow a beard to permit his abnormally sensitive skin to toughen.

Lions Club Has Business Meeting

Reports Of Various Activities Are Given At Luncheon Meeting Tuesday

New Castle Lions Club's Tuesday noon luncheon was devoted strictly to business, reports being received from various committees by Vice President Winter, in the absence of President Harding Thayer.

G. Earl Williams, chairman of the golf committee reported that arrangements had been made for a golf party for all Lions members for Wednesday evening at Castle Hills.

Chairman Jack Waddington of the Public Affairs committee reported that the Lions had been asked to affiliate with the Service Men's Aid Association of Lawrence county, and that the project was a deserving one. Jack Gerson, a member of the committee from the American Legion and also representing the Lions told about what was being done, the club voting $25 to the support of the association.

Staff Sergeant Charles Randall, who has just returned from a tour of duty overseas in the United States Air Corps, was a guest of the club.

CATTLE RUSTLERS BUSY IN ENGLAND

(International News Service)

LONDON—Newest wartime racket in Britain today is cattle rustling. Thousands of dollars worth of stock and farm produce are being stolen in the home counties.

Convoys of bandit lorries drive out to the Essex pasture-land during blackouts, round up cattle, sheep and take them to secret abattoirs for disposal to racketeering butchers and poulterers.

The Nazis won't go down for want of food. The conquered who don't starve can be roasted.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 27.—Isolationism is believed to have been struck a hard blow in Pennsylvania as a result of the defeat of U. S. Sen. James J. Davis in his race for the Republican nomination for governor. The issue was clear cut in the minds of Republican voters as Davis was opposed by a soldier whose supporters went to great lengths to explain the senator's voting record in the days before Pearl Harbor. The senator was one of those who voted against the lend-lease bill. Davis is now serving his third term in the senate, having first been elected in 1932. His present term expires in 1945. Tuesday's defeat was the first in his political career.

The defeat of Rep. Leo A. Achterman, Democratic house floor leader, in his race for secretary of internal affairs, was a stunning one in view of the success of the rest of he Ross ticket. The nomination of his opponent, Warren K. Hess, Reading, former house member, cannot be ascribed to his vote-getting abilities as he was not well-known in te state. Achterman's defeat is regarded as resulting from Democratic dissatisfaction with his leadership of the house during the 1941 and 1942 legislative sessions. Achterman failed to file for re-election to the house and will therefore be absent when the legislature reconvenes in January for its regular session.

Meet Elmer G. Holland of Pittsburgh, holder of three public offices at the same time. Holland is a member of the General Assembly, a congressman and superintendent of the Pittsburgh department of highways and sewers. When he's not busy with his public duties he is a salesman. Holland won his third post in the primary election when he defeated former Republican City Councilman Robert Garland of Pittsburgh, for the unexpired term of Joseph A. McArdle, Pittsburgh, who resigned. To cap it all, Holland also won the Democratic nomination in his district for state senator.

Leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties in the state senate easily won renomination in this districts. Placed on the November ballot by the Democratic voters was Bernard B. McGinnis, Allegheny county Democratic chairman and senate minority leader. State Sen. James A. Geltz of Ingomar was renomintaed on the Republican ticket. He is senate majority leader. Sen. John M. Walker of Oakmont, Republican chairman of the senate judiciary general committee, also won renomination without difficulty.

Secretary of Highways I. Lamont Hughes recently disclosed that he has rejected an offer to construct and administer a new steel plant being built on the west coast. He said he refused to accept any other commitments until the expiration of his present job with the James administration. Hughes is a former president of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation.

Some Good News On Production

(International News Service)

MORE STEEL — Production of steel is at its year record high of 99.6 per cent of capacity again this week.

MORE MOTORS—Buick's aircraft engine plant in Chicago soon will be a year and a quarter ahead of production schedules according to the management.

MORE SHIPS—A new navy patrol vessel which started life as a private yacht but was converted on the ways was launched at City Island, New York.

MORE HONORS—Award of the navy "E" to 13 more plants which have qualified for it by beating production schedules or showing unusual efficiency was announced by the navy department.

STILL MORE STEEL—Another steel plate to bolster production of ships for the navy was opened at Birmingham, Ala., to increase plate output in the district 50 per cent or more.

MORE SUBS—A new navy submarine, the U. S. S. Gurnard, will be launched June 1 at Groton, Conn.

POLICE SHORTAGE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's famous state police force has been seriously depleted by the nation's war effort.

Approximately 125 members resigned during the past year to accept positions in defense plants or enter the armed services, Police Commissioner Lynn G. Adams disclosed.

The force, composed of 1,600 men, is facing a shortage of manpower, offset slightly by the training of 50 recruits at the Hershey barracks.

Completes School With Attendance Record Perfect

VIRGINIA FINK

Miss Virginia C. Fink has just graduated this week from East Brook High School, and is believed to be the only student of that school to have a perfect attendance record.

She started in East Brook School in the first grade and has never missed a session, nor ever been late.

She has been a star basketball player for two years, also took leading parts in the Senior plays, has been secretary of her class; in fact a very active and ardent student.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omar R. Fink, of Lakewood.

EAST BROOK

MISSIONARY SPEAKS

Mrs. J. W. Acheson, a returned missionary from Egypt, who, with her family, resides in the Mission House in New Wilmington, was the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Pioneers and Builders YPCU in the United Presbyterian church on last Sabbath evening.

Mrs. Acheson spoke on "How the War has affected Missions." She reported that in Egypt the missions are thriving in spite of the war, there are fewer missionaries but these are carrying heavier loads. She especially commended the native Christians, who have found themselves able to carry on the work.

MARY JANES MEETING

The Mary Janes Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday evening, June 2, in the home of Mrs. Glenn Patterson. Mrs. Robert Martin will be leader. At this time a collection of new and used clothing will be brought to be sent to the Frenchburg mission in Kentucky.

All that is known of the wife of Cain is that contained in the 4th chapter, 16th and 17th verses, of Genesis. Since the Bible does not state, no one knows from where she came. There are various theories, one being that she was Cain's sister; another, that the work of Creation, while beginning with Adam and Eva, did not end with them, but that a wife was created for Cain. These, however, are only theories.

HILLSVILLE

DINNER EVENT

Mrs. Joseph Lagnese proved herself a charming hostess when she entertained the teachers of the Hillsville Consolidated school at the home of her mother, Mrs. Michael O'Tousa of Ellwood City on Thursday evening. Announcement of the coming marriage of her sister, Miss Jeanette O'Tousa was made.

The host and her sister are both teachers in the school.

Following the dinner which was prepared by the host's mother, aided by Mrs. Luigi Zaccheo and Miss Rose DeMauro of Ellwood and Miss Frieda Spalla of Youngstown, the evening was spent socially.

Miss O'Tousa has chosen Wednesday, July 22, as the day she will become the bride of Joseph E. Falletta of Buffalo, N. Y., son of Mr and Mrs. Samuel Falletta of Elmira, N. Y.

Special guests for the evening were: Mrs. Romeo Pisequa, Mrs. Samuel C. Stilley, Mrs. Aubrey Reno, Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen, Mrs. Harris McCleland of this vicinity and Miss Mary Boy of Ellwood City, all of which, with the exception of Miss Boy, were former teachers in the school.

HILLSVILLE NOTES

Mrs. Clair Heasley spent Monday visiting at King's Chapel.

Mrs. Clinton Jones Sr. spent Friday evening visiting with friends in Bessemer.

Quick Relief from Pile Irritation

Thirty years ago a Buffalo druggist created an ointment for relief from the itching and smarting of Piles. It brought such quick cooling, soothing, astringent relief that its fame spread throughout the country, and made Peterson's Ointment a favorite in thousands of homes. Ask your druggist for a 35c box of Peterson's Ointment today, or 60c tube with applicator. Money back if you are not delighted with relief.

John Burroughs (1837-1921), the famous American essayist and naturalist, produced some writings characterized by remarkable observation and interpretation of nature. He once wrote of hearing a whippoorwill call 1088 times without pausing.

Yanks Win 15th Of Last 18 Tiffs

New Yorkers Mash Red Sox, 9-2; Indians Snap Five Game Losing Streak

BRAVES CONTINUE VICTORY PARADE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Who or what human force is going to stop those Yankees?

That's what baseball fans were asking today as the New Yorkers prepared to continue their power assault against the poor seventh place Athletics at the Yankee stadium. Victors in 15 of their last 18 games, following yesterday's assault and battery which saw them sweep a two-game series with a 9 to 2 conquest of the Boston Red Sox, it was hard to determine just when the bombers would relax and take things easy.

Three homers in the first five innings just about took care of Mr. Joseph Cronin. Two of them, by Tommy Henrich and Charley Keller, came in the very first inning, each with a mate on the sacks.

These blows not only embarassed Joe Dobson, the Sox's leading pitcher so much he took an exit at the end of the frame, but also put a large "4" on the center field scoreboard and gave Atley Donald, on the hill for the New Yorkers, a much better working margin than he actually needed.

The only other afternoon game on the schedule in the American league saw the Senators wallop the A's, 8 to 3. Steve Sundra, though socked for 11 hits, scattered them well enough, got good support at the plate from his mates and managed to stick around till the finish. The win enabled the Washington boys to remain in fifth place and dropped the A's a bit closer to the last-place White Sox.

Indians Nip Sox, 2-1

The Cleveland Indians produced a pair of ninth-inning tallies to topple the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 1, last night and halt a five-game losing streak. Mel Harder, pitching his first game with the aid of spectacles, doled out seven scattered hits, while Edgar Smith, the Sox southpaw, limited the Indians to six, with two coming in the fateful inning.

In another arc light game the Detroit Tigers scored a 3 to 1 win over the St. Louis Browns behind the four-hit pitching of Al Benton. Eric McNair's homer in the fifth proved to be the victory run, though the Tigers added another unearned tally in the seventh.

There were only two games scheduled in the National league, the Boston Braves picking up a half game on the idle Dodger by beating the Giants, 4 to 2, to sweep their two-game series.

Javery held the Giants to six hits in this one, which saw the Braves beat big Cliff Melton for the first time in more than two years.

In the other contest the Cardinals managed to eke out a 3 to 1 verdict over the Cubs in Chicago. Vern Olson, Cub southpaw, making his first start of the year, pitched fine ball for the losers in the regulation nine frames, yielding only a homer to Terry Moore in the eighth.

The Cubs tied it in the ninth, but in the extra inning Brown's single, Moore's double, walks to Slaughter and Cooper, and Triplett's long fly out gave the Cards the ball game. Howard Krist, who had relieved Max Lanier in the ninth, was given credit for the victory.

Robinson-Servo Setto Thursday

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Though there wasn't much betting action yet, Sugar Ray Robinson was a 2 to 1 favorite to make it 32 straight wins as a pro when he enters the ring against little Marty Servo of Schenectady in their return tenrounder at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Servo, who completed boxing with a two-round drill against Artie Levine in a local gym here yesterday, was extremely confident he could reverse the only decision marked against his record in 46 pro fights. This was won by Robinson in Philadelphia last summer and was called very unpopular by ringside critics.

Keystones Tie Dewey Nine, 2-2

In a thrilling nine inning battle, the Keystones and Deweys battled to a 2-2 draw in a City-County Independent Baseball league fray Tuesday night at Ryantown.

The Keys came from behind to deadlock the count, G. Lambiase, for the Keys, starred at the plate.

Score by innings:		R	H	E
Deweys	000 001 010	2	6	0
Keys	000 000 110	2	11	1

Batteries: Deweys—Majors and Adams; Keys—Barlett, Lambiase and Sheldone.

WILLIAMS LEADS

NEW YORK, May 27.—Ted Williams, beanpole Boston Red Sox outfielder, leads the major home run derby with a dozen base cleaners. Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers is second with nine and Camilli of Brooklyn and Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks are deadlocked for the next slot with eight apiece.

Army Athletic Trophy Awarded To Grid Captain

(International News Service)

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 27.—The Army Athletic Association trophy to the graduating cadet voted as rendering the "most valuable service to athletics" was presented today to Raymond P. Murphy of Anaconda, Mont. Murphy also received the Edgerton trophy awarded annually to the outgoing football captain.

Campbell, Ram Ace, Out Of IC4A Meet

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Johnny Campbell of Fordham will be scratched out of the two-day I. C. 4 A track and field championships at Triborough stadium Friday and Saturday, it was learned today, depriving the Rams of their chief threat in the 440-yard run and leaving the race absolutely at the mercy of Al Dieboldt of Colgate, commonly known as "the Alsab of the cinderpaths".

Campbell will be withdrawn from the meet because of a combination of ailments which include a pulled tendon and a bad case of ringworm. He has not had a spiked shoe on since he captured the Met. intercollegiate quarter mile crown on May 9.

Shut Out Winner Of Belmont Race

NEW YORK, May 27.—Flashing some of the form that brought him ahead of the field in the Kentucky Derby classic, Shut Out Tuesday won the Ballot Handicap at Belmont.

Shut Out, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, whipped Challedon by six lengths and paid only $3.40 for a deuce. Reading II was second. The triumph placed Shutout among the favorites to cop the coming Belmont Stakes.

CUBS' RELIEF BATTLES TODAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 27—With its pass gate padlocked, Wrigley Field, home of the Chicago Cubs, opened its pay gates today to a crowd that promised to be the largest of the season. All receipts will go to the army and navy relief societies.

Two games were on the bill, with the Great Lakes naval training station and Camp Grant to meet in the opener and the Cubs and Cincinnati Reds to engage in their regularly scheduled game in the nightcap.

ED. COLLINS, JR. INDUCTION TODAY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Eddie Collins, Jr., son of the A's former second baseman, has played his last game with the Mack nine for the duration.

Collins, 26, will be inducted today as an ensign in the naval reserve at Arlington, Va., and is to be assigned to the bureau of navigation in Washington. A Yale graduate, he joined the A's as an outfielder in 1939.

FAIR OR FOUL
By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27.—He was sitting in a corner talking and laughing, with a blue sports jacket thrown around his shoulders, a dotted scarf tucked into his neckband and swagger grey slacks engulfing his not quite trim middle.

"The king is holding court," somebody said, walking through the locker room, and looking over the 50-year-old golfing phenomenon, Walter Hagen.

He was just warming up to the people around him and tossing off some of the philosophy which has kept him going when younger guys have been content to pack their golfing canes away and call it a day.

The amazing, be-spectacled elderly gent is in the midst of some kind of a comeback. He shook off the moth balls and decided to play in this silver anniversary of the national professional golf championship as a gesture—a gesture to those dear dead days when they held parades for him on New York's Fifth avenue and took him to the city hall to get the keys to the city and his entry is a gesture to the game in the future, whatever the future may be. Golf is through for the time being and until the war is over.

Won Five P. G. A. Togas

Hagen played in the first Professional Golf Association tournament ever held. That was back in 1916 and he wound up winning five of them for an all-time record that has never been touched. He won four British opens and two U. S. opens and every other title that amounts to anything.

He laughed his way through world tours, hob-nobbed with royalty and once borrowed the cap from a squirt down in Texas when he was playing against Tommy Armour with a bright sun in his eyes, so many years ago that the time doesn't matter. The little white cap that he cocked on his head belonged to Byron Nelson, favorite in this renewal of the championship.

He won his first U. S. open back in 1914, when he was a cocky kid trying to make up his mind whether to play golf or professional baseball. From there he went on to win them all. He hasn't missed living a single moment of his life since the first day he hit the big time. Whether he was imbedded in the rough with money riding on his next shot or sitting in a locker room corner he has had his laughs.

Only two years ago in the pro championship he was the hit of the day with the gallery when he locked up with Jug McSpaden and nearly kidded his way to a fourth round victory, and contributed to his own downfall by sportingly calling attention to the fact that he had kicked McSpaden's ball in the rough. It cost him the hole in a tough, close match.

He has laughed and ribbed his way through life and he must have been the greatest golfer that ever lived, although they posted a 79 for him after Monday's round.

Fred Fitzsimmons Gets Coach's Job

NEW YORK, May 27.—Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons, who was released by the Brooklyn Dodgers to bring the club to the 25-player limit, has been signed as a coach by Larry MacPhail.

Fitzsimmons, who is believed to have accepted a cut in salary, has been hired for the balance of the year.

Sylvan Heights League To Banquet

Arrangements Are Completed For Dinner At Clubhouse On June 13

Sylvan Heights Golf leaguers are looking forward to the evening of Saturday, June 13, when a banquet will be held in the clubhouse of the course at 6:15 o'clock.

This will be one of the opening features of the league program which has been arranged by the entertainment committee, of which Joe Smith of Ellwood City is chairman.

Tickets have been placed in the hands of the team captains.

Three Softball Frays Tonight

Secretary "Gabby" Kendra today announced that three City Softball league encounters will be played tonight.

(End of first round.)

FURNACE POLOISTS OPEN MEMORIAL DAY

Old Furnace Polo club opens its season on Memorial Day, opposing Warren, O., in a Penn-Ohio league battle at the Old Furnace polo field, Zelienople-Ellwood road, Route 288, starting at 3:30 o'clock. The two teams will also play Sunday afternoon.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Death of Eddie Mead recalled to local fight fans last night that the rely poly manager who stood about six feet high brought several good fighters to this city and also some not so good. He had Floyd Hybert here and also sent Rubber Jack Dillon to this city. He also handled Italian Joe Gans and Jimmie Hackley. At one time he handled as many as a score of fighters in the same manner as Leo Flynn directed them in his day. In other words, Eddie would book a fighter, notify him by telegraph, then meet his charge at the club wherever the bout was being held. He handled Joe Lynch when Joe was bantamweight king and also the triple champion, Henry Armstrong.

Doerr of the Red Sox is heading the Big Six hitters. The Red Sox slugger owns a percentage of .391, with Gordon of the Yanks only one point behind.

Any youngster over 16 who wants to twirl gloves in the amateur boxing show next week as a part of the Navy Week celebration can have a chance if he requests. He can either go to the Jefferson or New Castle A. C. to file his entry. Navy Week is sponsored by the Navy and Greater New Castle Association. The date for the boxing show will be announced tomorrow. The Jefferson A. C. will run the show.

Distance racing will feature the Wheeling Downs meet which opens Thursday . . . Indications are the trotters and pacers will not round the New Castle track grounds any more except in training.

Dodgers Annex Second Victory

Dean Park Dodgers journeyed to Clifton Flats Tuesday night, where they met the New Castle Refractories, formerly known as the Trojans, defeating them by a score of 15-4.

Eddie Vargo hurled a superb game for the Dodgers, allowing but four hits. Ciccone allowed but nine blows, but 11 errors by the Refractories set up a number of runs.

Wednesday's schedule calls for Gus playing E. S. Fannins, Mooneys at W. S. Pirates, Ramblers at Dean Park, and New Castle Refractories at K. Pulaski.

On Memorial Day, E. S. Fannins will play the Dean Park Dodgers at Dean Park, the game starting at 2 p. m. instead of Friday night as previously scheduled.

Score by innings:		R	H	E
Dodgers	343 040 1	15	9	4
Refractories	000 001 3	4	4	11

Batteries—Dodgers: Vargo and H. Liebendorfer; Trojans: Ciccone and Cwynar.

Thirty-Two Contestants Start Firing Along Beautiful Seaview Country Club

SEAVIEW COUNTRY CLUB, Atlantic City, N. J., May 27.—Two corporals, a sailor-to-be as of next week, and 29 citizens without ensignia went out in earnest pursuit of the national professional golf championship, last major title to be laid on the line for the duration of the war.

The preliminary gestures contained in the qualifying round are over now, and from here on out through next Sunday it will be 36 holes of match play daily.

One of the corporals in the field is Vic Ghezzi of Fort Monmouth, the defending champion, an automatic qualifier. The other is Jim Turnesa of Fort Dix, while the budding seaman is Slammin' Samuel Jackson Snead, all still on the firing line and now drawing a bead in man-to-man combat with the end of medal play.

The field is quite select, but not as brilliant as it often has been in the past. Of the hundred who started out Monday a host of big names were flattened before they could even get through the qualifying and the result is utter absence of such notables as Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and their likes.

In the match play, in fact, there are to be found at the moment just three men who have worn the professional royal purple — Nelson, Shute and the present title-holder subject to change without notice, Ghezzi.

Church Leaguers Play Thursday

Church leaguers will tee off Thursday in twilight matches at Castle Hills. First Presbyterian and St. Mary's are heading the golf loop. Last week's play developed Ted Lash as the medalist. He turned in a card of 33, which is below par.

RAMBLERS DEFEAT K. PULASKI TEAM

North Hill Ramblers won their second game in the American Legion Junior league by defeating K. Pulaski at Colonial field by a score of 13-7 Tuesday evening.

Score by innings:		R	H	E
K. Pulaski	100 006 0	7	5	3
Ramblers	0 11 1 100 x	13	7	1

Batteries—Ramblers: Eroe and Jackson; K. Pulaski, Ostrowski, Dudo and Bigley.

POWER IS THERE

Arky Vaughan, Joe Medwick and Pete Reiser, Dodgers, are listed among the National league batting champions since 1935.

Croton Rules In City Loop

Downs West Side Tigers 5-3, Tuesday; Indies Jar Moose, Elders Cop 12 To 4

LAWRENCE INDIES IN SECOND PLACE

Croton's fiery sandlotters today rule the roost in the never-a-dull moment City Baseball league.

The hill entry took undisputed possession of the celestial post by spanking the doughty West Side Tigers, 5-3, on Croton field Tuesday night. On other fronts, Lawrence Indies leaped into second place, a half game behind the leaders, by mowing down the Moose, 6-4, on Marshall field, and the Elder A. C. remained in the picture by walloping West Pittsburg, 12-4, at West Pittsburg.

CROTON TAMES TIGERS

In a game that was as loose as a tray of dishes, the Croton A. C. emerged with a 5-3 nod.

Pyle, on the mound for the Tigers, pitched well enough but received poor support at critical moments. After forging ahead, 4-3, Manager "Hop" Colaluca inserted Frank Stone on the mound. The veteran checked the Tigers. Morella and Mayberry got all four hits for the winners. "Ducky" Guinaugh laced a double for the losers.

ELDERS ON RAMPAGE

Mixing up 20 hits, three of them doubles by Alexander, the Elder A. C. snowed under the West Pittsburg "Gashouse Gang" 12-4 at West Pittsburg.

The host nine held a 3-0 lead as hostilities opened in the third. At this point the Elders started on the march, collecting three runs in each of the next four frames. Brest, Parillo and Alexander featured for the winners while J. Braky and Mehalic divided honors for the losers.

INDIES GORE MOOSE

Confining all their scoring to one inning, the fourth, the Lawrence Indies moved into second place by defeating the Moose, 6-4, on Marshall field.

The Indies produced their half dozen tallies in the fourth. Savage and W. Cemera superintended the pitching. Denny and Frigone divided mound chores for the Moose. Gaydosik and W. Cemera set the pace at the plate for the Indies while Bevan and Annarella highlighted the losers' attack.

LEAGUE DUST

Lawrence Indies and Elders will play their postponed game tonight at 6 o'clock on Marshall field, it was announced today.

The Elders, sporting a 3-3 mark, can move into second place by toppling the surging south enders. An Indie triumph will shave Croton's lead to 40 percentage points.

Leo Hill has assigned General and Price as umpires.

W. PITTSBURG-MOOSE

Announcement was made today that West Pittsburg and the Moose play their postponed tussle tonight at 6 o'clock at West Pittsburg.

Defeated last night, the two aggregations will insert their strongest lineups in the hope of returning to the victory column.

Umpires formerly assigned to the game will "work" the tiff.

SLOVAKS-S. HILLS

Slovaks will step out of the league's domain tonight, facing South Hills of the City-County Independent league at South Hills. The game starts at 6 o'clock. Henry Dugan, of the Slovak club, announced today.

Managers of the Elders, Moose, Croton and Bessemer are asked to submit names of last year's players now in service. The lists should be forwarded to C. A. Landolf, New Castle News.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police Chief Willis G. McMullen today reported that an officer from Easton has arrived here with a warrant for Charles alias Claude Messenger, alias Jack Wilson, apprehended after passing a forged check here, for which he made restitution. Allentown authorities also sent a warrant here to be filed as a detainer and the FBI has also indicated it will file a detainer against him on a charge of violating the Dyer act—transportation of a stolen auto across a state line. It appears Messenger or Wilson, names he has used, has found himself in a "hot city," as he so expressed himself after his capture by two businessmen in Apple Way. He is in the county jail.

Grand Rapids, Mich., authorities today sent to Police Chief W. G. McMullen a photograph of a 17 year old girl reportedly missing from there. She is Jean Johnson. A nation-wide search is being made for the young girl. Her description was given also to the local chief.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern goliaths of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your county go over its Bond Quota.

Wolves Club Has Bowlers Banquet

Event Held At Lakewood; Carm Sacco, Fred DeCarbo Receive Team Awards

Approximately 100 percent of the Wolves club attended the annual bowlers banquet which is featured every year at the close of the bowling season. The bowlers of the organization were host to the non-bowlers, Tuesday evening at Lakewood.

Promptly at 7 o'clock, the delicious banquet was served, and following the members enjoyed an entertaining novel program, with president, Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr., in charge. Participating in the program were: A. N. Carbon, Dave Valiensi and Carm Sacco.

Congratulations were given to Carm Sacco for capturing the award for the best highest average, and Fred DeCarbo, was the second winner. Mr. Sacco captured the best high score for one gme, and tied with the best high score for three games with Tom Malizia.

The winning team in the Wolves club was captained by Fred DeCarbo, and included the following players: Tom Malizia, Elrick Scarazzo, Nick DeCarbo, Humbert Fazzone, Joe Frengel and Joseph Donati. June 2 is the date for the next meeting.

TOWNSHIP PUPILS PURCHASE STAMPS

J. Arthur Turek, principal of Sunny avenue school, Union Township school, announces today that pupils from the school have purchased war bond stamps amounting to $687.42, which is an excellent record for a school having six grades.

Stamps purchased by the students have been of 10 and 25-cent denomination.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

ATTENTION . . . June Class of 1941 . . . in last night's column the annual reunion for your class was mentioned . . . in some paper a telephone number appeared and in other papers no phone number appeared . . . Due to some misunderstanding the wrong number was received from the committee in charge so please take note as to the correct phone number . . . 4586 . . . All members of this class are requested to call this number if they are interested in securing a ticket for dinner at the annual reunion that will be held at Rio Beach, June 11th.

The Certificates for the Victory Garden followers have just arrived and are now ready for distribution . . . All one must do to secure one of these certificates, stating that that person has fulfilled the necessary requirements set forth by the Committee on Victory Gardens, is to call on their local advisor . . . Advisor names and address will be published later. Every one who has a victory garden should have one of these certificates.

* * *

Thursday evening in the Community Hall of the Epworth Methodist Church, the Guild Ladies of that church will hold their annual tea festival. All peoples are invited to attend . . . men and women alike. A very interesting program will be presented . . . technicolor moving pictures of Mexico as photographed by local travelers will be a highlight in the evening's entertainment. In addition to the fun and serious side of life, there will be eats . . . Delicious home-cooked eats . . . the kind you expect at a tea party. So if you are itching to get out Thursday evening make it a date at the Epworth Church at 7:45. There will be no admission charge.

Most every day now, the sky around these parts looks like an awning after a heavy rain . . . it sags and seems to be straining with a tremendous load of water . . . and then all at once it lets go and down it comes. Hope tomorrow is a nice bright sunny day . . . Thursday is Class day for 148 high school seniors . . . a big day for them and we hope they all enjoy the activities of the day. And those who go out on the road with cars . . . drive carefully . . . Let's hear that no one was hurt by careless driving.

Stock Market Moves Upward

Numerous Stocks Make Gains In Trading Of Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 27.—The stock market generally moved upward today, with a few issues gaining a point or more.

Commonwealth & Southern preferred which yesterday slumped 3⅝ points on the omission of dividends, rallied 1½ points.

In motors both Chrysler and General Motors climbed better than a point.

Among representative stocks to gain a point or more were Johns-Manville, U. S. Gypsum, Norfolk & Western, Union Carbide, American Sugar Refining and American Shipbuilding.

Sizeable gains also were shown by Anaconda, General Electric, Du Pont, Lockheed, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Standard Oil of N. J., Santa Fe, American Tobacco "B" and International Harvester.

Eastman Kodak tumbled 2 points and Public Service of N. J., 7 per cent preferred, making its first appearance in about 2 weeks, dropped 2½.

Commodities were mixed. Firmness in U. S. Governments stood out in a quiet bond list.

RESCUE FAMILY STRANDED BY PENNSYLVANIA FLOOD

Scenes like the one above, in Reading, were common in eastern Pennsylvania as flood waters swept through towns and cities, destroying hundreds of homes and leaving at least 35 persons dead. This family was rescued by canoe when the water rose above the doorstep.

Where Lie a Numerous Unknown Dead

Pennsylvania Department of Commerce Photo

More than 2,240 lives were lost May 31, 1889, when the Conemaugh Lake dam near Johnstown broke, its rushing waters sweeping through the city in the worst peace-time disaster of this Nation. Pictured above is the plot of graves—777 in all—where sleep the unknown dead of that flood.

THE NEW CASTLE STORE

German Measles, Total Contagion, Drop In County

New cases of German measles increased slightly in Scot township and in Washington township during the week ended May 21, according to the most recent report of the district health center here. Ellwood City and Mahoning township also reported cases of this contagious disease. Including four new cases of it in Hickory township, the total reported for the county is 24 cases, three less than the week before.

Three cases of measles in Ellwood City, one of chickenpox there, and one new one in New Castle, plus one of scarlet feve, in New Castle, brings the past week's total for contagious diseases to 30, three less than the preceding week.

Defense Vacation Plan Is Adopted

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—The Prudential Insurance company of America, which employ 12,000 at the home office, today became what is probably the first large company in the nation to adopt the Office of Defense Transportation vacation plan.

The ODT plan calls for the employees to start their vacations on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays rather than week-ends, in an effort to avert clogging of highways and railroads.

ALL WEST POINTERS TO LEARN FLYING

(International News Service)

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y.—A full-time flying course for West Point cadets that will obviate the need for further air training will be in operation August 1 at the new Stewart Field, near Newburgh, it was disclosed here by Capt. D. B. Thurman, of West Point.

The field, which will cost $21,000,000, is now nearing completion. Training will be provided for every cadet, regardless of what branch of the service he subsequently may enter. To the present academic schedule, he said, 400 hours of flying will be added.

Cadets otherwise qualified for the air corps on graduation from the academy will be commissioned in that branch without further training at either Kelly or Randolph Fields, which is the present procedure.
